01 Benefit information Part I line 1a		The Company headquarters are located in a remote rural location in the extreme northeast corner of Wyoming. It is occasionally deemed expedient to charter small piston-engined airplanes when company business requires travel outside of our territory. This occurs primarily when travel is necessary to one of two destinations. The first would be the state capital Cheyenne for regulatory and government meetings or activities affecting the cooperative directly or indirectly. The second is the Bismarck, North Dakota offices of our principal power supplier Basin Electric. Basin is also a cooperative and the Company is therefore an Owner-Member of Basin and participates in its general and special meetings. These charters are for business purposes only; have no compensatory purposes whatsoever.
