(Code) (Expenses $ 617,490 including grants of $) (Revenue $ 791,628)

Environmental Health Program Latino's United for Clean Air - LUCA is a parent group located at Akira Yokomi Elementary School, originally organized by Metro which now operates independently and advocates for clean air and toxic-free environments Working with the principal, the school stopped using bleach for cleaning purposes as it is a possible trigger for asthma attacks and/ or allergies Additionally, the school's maintenance department has been directed to place the request for school yard spraying for afternoons or on Fridays, when children are not present LUCA Forum - LUCA and EH hosted their 4th Annual Environmental Health Forum Clean Air, Healthy Family at Yokomi Elementary School The free event was open to the public and educated participants on health issues related to air pollution in an effort to enhance the community's ability to advocate for clean air Over 75 community residents participated in this year's Forum, which included special presentations on healthy school environments and dialogue with key local decision-makers Families also enjoyed live entertainment, physical activity for families, games for kids, and dinner Additionally, free Whooping Cough Vaccines (TDAP) for kids 11 years and older were sponsored by a local health clinic, Clinica Sierra Vista Special guests included City Council Member Oliver Baines, District 3, World Champion Boxer, Jenifer Alcorn, San Joaquin Valley Air District Board member Mike Lane, John Quinto, Fresno Unified School District Clean Homes, Healthy Families Program - EH supports the Clean Homes, Healthy Families campaign, and, in conjunction with LUCA, EH conducts community presentations on the health effects of everyday household products, such as cleaning and pesticide products Presentations are held at local schools, non-profit organizations and churches and participants are provided Green Cleaning Starter Kits (Borax, white vinegar, baking soda, vegetable oil, salt, etc) to help make the change to using safer cleaning products Most recently, EH has established a partnership with the Fresno Housing Authority to conduct presentations to their Family Self-Sufficiency Program at housing complexes in Parlier, Firebaugh and Fresno Central Valley Air Quality Coalition - EH's Director facilitated a community listening session with the head of the EPA, Administrator Lisa Jackson, on air quality and environmental justice issues This was a historic opportunity to educate the Administrator on the multitude of issues we face in our region This was the first time the Valley was given an allotted time to meet with a representative of EPA at this level Prior to the listening session, EH, CVAQ, and LUCA members participated in a rally and press conference to share with the media our specific asks of the Administration We received coverage from Vida en el Valle, Channel 21, 26 and 30 Unfortunately, the EPA Administration would not allow cameras in the meeting During the listening session, we focused on the human faces affected by the issues at hand to testify directly to the Administrator Although we did not get any specific commitments from Ms Jackson, she did commit to keeping a space at the decision-making table for us We have yet to see what impact this has, but CVAQ has made great progress toward our goal of lifting our region's air issues to the national level West Fresno/Darling International - EH coordinated with the Concerned Citizens of West Fresno, California Rural Legal Assistance, CVAQ, and other community groups to hold a press conference in front of City Hall to bring attention to the public hearing being held regarding the Darling International rendering plant in West Fresno Since the early 1950s, Darling has trucked in hundreds of tons of offal daily, in unsecured trucks that belch clouds of particulate matter into residential neighborhoods and leave trails of blood and bits of animal carcasses on the streets of West Fresno Residents have tirelessly pleaded with the City to put conditions on Darling's operations

F990_P03_S00_L04a	Form 990, Part III, Line 4a	which the law requires the City to do, but has not been done In preparation for Community meetings, EH coordinated phone-banking and door-to-door outreach in the West Fresno neighborhoods surrounding the Darling Plant The Environmental Health program also worked closely with members from the Concerned Citizens of West Fresno and Communities for a New California to increase support and encourage participation at the meetings Additionally, the door-to-door outreach efforts included informing West Fresno resident on how to engage the City to have their complaints formally documented Approximately 50 community residents attended the meeting CRLA gave the presentation on what has taken place over the past few months and the City's delays in taking the issue to a final resolution CRLA also reported on the hiring of an Environmental Justice expert, which spurred a desire that the report be made public This dialogue encouraged participants to make their complaints to the City formally and emphasized the importance of documenting the problem In April, a City Councilmember brought the issue to the Fresno City Council, seeking a determination that Darling must apply for a Conditional Use Permit as required by law Darling has lobbied for an Abatement Agreement with the City which, says, in effect, that the City would take a hands-off approach to the many issues raised After weeks of deliberations, the Council once again failed to take action and, instead, extended the public comment period for their proposed Abatement Agreement Community members opposed this approach The City Council is aware of at least two citizens groups willing to bring legal action should the Council adopt the Agreement This continues a long pattern of governmental neglect for West Fresno Clean Air Action Day - In August, EH participated in the 8th Annual Clean Air Action Day with the CVAQ EH staff helped coordinate the outreach efforts to recruit participants for the day-long trip to Sacramento The purpose of the action day was to take Valley residents to the capital to advocate for legislation on various environmental health issues plaguing our community In addition to the Air Quality issues we have been working on historically like establishing a Community Benefits Fund with money raised by implementing AB 32, the coalition advocated on behalf of toxics issues this year As a result of partnering with Californians for Healthy and Green Economy (CHANGE), we included issues such as Fracking for the extraction of Oil and Natural Gas, BPA in Baby bottles and cups, and Phasing out Styrofoam Food Containers While in Sacramento, EH welcomed a group of over 100 community activists from every part of the state - urban residents from Oakland, Los Angeles, and Fresno together with rural residents from Earlimart, Coachella, and Arvin - at the Westminster Presbyterian church where a hosted lunch and training was held for participants Additionally, the group held a rally on the capitol steps with the support of two legislators Assemblymembers Betsy Butler and Bill Monning Smart Valley Places - In September, Environmental Health program hosted the Smart Valley Places Community Leadership Institute kick-off with the Central California Regional Obesity Prevention Program EH coordinated the outreach efforts to recruit community members from underserved areas of the City to take part in the 6-month training More than 40 participants attended the first of six half-day trainings designed to prepare residents to become better advocates for their communities The director of long range planning for the City of Fresno shared upcoming opportunities to participate in the update of Fresno's General Plan

Identifier	Return Reference	Explanation
F990_P03_S00_L04b	Form 990, Part III, Line 4b	The SVPCL's goal is to prepare community residents with practical knowledge about city planning and sustainable/equitable growth. The trainings are designed to foster an effective working relationship between community residents, city planners, and decision makers to build better, healthier, safer, and more sustainable communities. Topics covered include: Local Government and Sustainable Communities, Land Use and Sustainable Communities, Sustainable Housing and Community Development, Local and Regional Transportation, Water/Wastewater Management, and Environmental Equity. Hunger / Nutrition Program Fit Family Challenge - The Hunger Nutrition Program kicked-off its Fit Family Challenge in January at a community center in Southeast Fresno. The Fit Family Challenge is a new project funded by The California Endowment's Building Healthy Communities Initiative, which provides free fitness and nutrition classes in Southeast and Central Fresno. Three-time World Champion Boxer and owner of TeamJab, Jenifer Alcorn, taught the fitness classes. The Fitness and Nutrition classes alternated between two community centers. We initially planned to have classes two Saturdays a month for six months, but Alcorn graciously donated more time so that we were able to provide a fitness and nutrition class every Saturday through June. The Kick-off attracted more than 120 adults and children who all participated in the fitness and nutrition class. The Community Food Bank brought their Nutrition on Wheels vehicle and provided a short cooking demonstration and food distribution to those who participated in both the fitness class and food demonstration. The Food Bank has committed to participating in the Fit Family Challenge at least once a month, offering a food demonstration and distribution to participants. Other service providers that participated included: Clinical Sierra Vista which provided free flu shots and Central Valley Health Network's Champions for Change, which supplied participants with healthy recipe cookbooks. During the course of the project, more than 200 families and 138 children participated in the Challenge. Within the first five months, more than 100 people participate every weekend, even during the rain. Radka Garden Beautification Volunteer Day - The Garden Coalition has been busy planning for the Al Radka Community Garden Beautification Day which was set for April. The event was co-sponsored by Leadership Fresno Class 27 and Pelco by Schneider who provided more than 70 volunteers for the day. Leadership Fresno also brought in a wealth of resources including: hauling in compost, removing garden debris, tilling and expanding garden plots, building raised beds, clearing paths, and building two pergolas. In addition, Granville Homes underwrote the costs of 100% recycled park benches and picnic tables and Chic Filet Restaurant provided lunch for the volunteers. More than $22,000 in resources were donated for the service project and brought together community partners such as Quiring General, 84 Lumber, High Sierra Trail Crew and many others, whose time and resources helped to make the project a success. Hunger Action Day - Hunger Action Day is a statewide event, coordinated by the California Hunger Action Coalition, where community activist, organizations, youth and leaders travel to Sacramento to talk with our State legislators about hunger and nutrition issues. Metro has participated in Hunger Action Day for the past decade and uses this event as an opportunity to advocate on behalf of hunger and nutrition issues that are relevant to our underserved communities and the Central Valley as a whole. In May, HN took 35 participants on a bus trip to the State Capital to encourage legislators to support three Bills of importance to our community - CalFresh Act of 2011 which calls for eliminating the Fingerprint Imaging Requirement for the state food stamp program, moving to Semi-Annual Reporting, and implementing a "Heat and Eat" (utility assistance) initiative, AB 69 - an effort to increase access to CalFresh for seniors by establishing a two-location pilot in conjunction with the Social Security Administration to test streamlined strategies to enroll eligible Social Security recipients over the age of 65 into CalFresh, and, AB 839 - a bill geared to improving school breakfast programs to increase participation. In preparation for the trip, Hunger Nutrition conducted advocacy trainings for participants and worked with legislative staff to set up one-on-one meetings with the Assembly Members and Senators the day of the event.

F990_P03_S00_L04c	Form 990, Part III, Line 4c	This year was one of our most successful events, as we changed our strategy to a more youth-driven effort. It resulted in higher participation and a more positive response from legislators. 2nd Annual Community Garden Conference - The HN Program and the Fresno Community Garden Coalition convened the 2nd Annual Community Garden Conference in September. More than 150 community members and gardeners attended the day-long event, which offered breakout sessions on Integrated Pest Management, Gardening in Small Spaces, How to start a Community Garden, Composting, and other gardening topics. The conference opened with a video featuring the Al Radka and Peach community gardeners, "From Plot to Plate," which is a product of the recent partnership between Metro and ITT Technical Institute. To date, ITT has donated $5,000 of in-kind services. The video was very well received and we have received a number of requests from organizations who would like to use the video to solicit support to start or enhance their own gardens. Additionally, the morning general session included a panel discussion on how to start school gardens, featuring three experts on the topic who shared their experiences on how to create gardens in schools and a curriculum that would help enhance the learning process for the children involved with gardens. The afternoon featured a Keynote address from Tom Willey from T D Willey Farms who donated his time. Central California Regional Obesity Prevention Project (CCROPP) RWJF /CCROPP Leadership Advocacy Trainings for 2nd Cohort -15 community residents representing three different neighborhoods (Burroughs, Winchell and the 3 West Fresno School District) came together in January for their first session of the Healthy Kids, Healthy Communities Leadership Advocacy Training. The purpose of the 1-year, 12 module training, is to equip individuals and build the capacity of community residents to advocate for needed community changes. All trainings have been scheduled for the entire year and will continue to take place monthly. In between trainings, there are a number of "hands-on" assignments that will be required. The second Cohort had the advantage of having the first Cohort act as support and mentors. Trainees also have the opportunity to identify a project(s) to focus on and actually develop an action plan. Martin Ray Reilly Park - In conjunction with City Council Member from District 7, CCROPP hosted a community meeting in April to hear from residents on the importance of having a safe place for kids to play and to receive feedback on amenities that reflect the needs of the neighborhoods surrounding the Martin Ray Reilly Park. The proposed park site is located on the SE corner of 180 and Chestnut, an area of the City which is severely lacking in public open green space. In November 2010, a groundbreaking ceremony was held for the proposed $21 million, 3-acre park and the project was to be funded from $12 million in Park Bond Funds with Redevelopment Agency assistance in the amount of $260,000. Funding, however, became uncertain. Nearly 100 residents attended the community meeting where City officials provided an overview of the park's progress and budgetary issues that may affect the development of the site. CCROPP Presentation - CCROPP presented a Place and Public Health Implications for San Joaquin Valley Practitioners and Planners. The conference was held at California State University, Fresno, Craig School of Business in May. The conference addressed how neighborhood physical and built environments impact public health. With the recognition that promoting healthy communities requires collaborations among non-traditional partners, the conference participants were encouraged to participate in dialogue and networking opportunities. Speakers showcased new approaches to planning and implementing local policies and programs that promote health and wellbeing for all Valley communities. CCROPP's panel specifically presented on projects/programs that make it easier and safer to walk or bicycle to school and agreements that provide community members greater access to school facilities. School Breakfast - CCROPP has been working closely with the Fresno Unified School District on the Universal Breakfast Project to help support the implementation of alternative breakfast delivery models in at least 25 school sites. The sites selected include both elementary and high schools. The Project ensures that children are able to have a healthy nutritious breakfast by using multiple alternative approaches to making breakfast available. These alternative approaches - breakfast carts strategically located around the campus, breakfast in locations where children gather on campus, even in the classroom - have proven effective where they have been used and add ways to provide breakfast outside of the traditional cafeteria setting.
