The Schedule of Realized Gains and Losses is not reported to the IRS. This Schedule is for your information only. It is based on cost basis adjustments necessary for tax purposes; for example, it does not reflect disallowed losses from wash sale events. Adjustments to cost basis may have been made for prior income tax purposes and subsequently reclassified by the issuer as a result of capital. Typically these adjustments are received after year-end and there may be differences in cost basis reflected on your monthly client statement versus the year end versus any subsequent reporting. The online displays you may have available to you. Return of capital information has been obtained from sources we believe to be reliable.

When you report your cost basis on your tax return, it should be verified with your own advisor. In addition, there may be other adjustments and/or tax representations or warranties made by the issuer with respect to the accuracy of any information that you report to the IRS or other taxing authorities, and, accordingly, disclaims any and all liability that may arise with respect to any tax returns and reliance on the information provided herein for such reporting.

Cost basis on fixed income securities is adjusted for amortization, accretion or principal repayment. These adjustments will be performed under certain circumstances, including those involving continuously callable bonds, foreign bonds, variable rates, bonds in default, index-linked bonds, bonds sold short, bonds with a negative yield, and other.

Performance Inception date is the date from which your performance and the benchmark performance is calculated. Your Performance Inception Value is the value of your holdings on this date.
