Part III

Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Check if Schedule O contains a response to any question in this Part III ☐ Yes ☒ No

1

Briefly describe the organization's mission

The Association is an international scientific and educational organization dedicated to advancing the art, science, engineering, and application of information technology, serving both professional and public interests by fostering the open interchange of information and by promoting the highest professional and ethical standards

2

Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ? ☐ Yes ☒ No

If "Yes," describe these new services on Schedule O

3

Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services? ☐ Yes ☒ No

If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O

4

Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations and section 4947(a)(1) trusts are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported

4a

(Code) (Expenses $ 11,289,784 including grants of $) (Revenue $ 18,284,925)

PublicationsACM publications are designed to educate the public, our membership and the computing community about the news and issues in the computing field. The Association publishes scholarly Journals and Conference Proceedings that contain the latest research in the field. Currently the Association publishes 35 Journals, 4 magazines, over 130 conference proceedings and numerous electronic publications. ACM's Digital Library contains the digital version of ALL of its publications and is serving over 2,400 university, college and corporate libraries around the world as well as over 32,000 ACM members

4b

(Code) (Expenses $ 22,332,855 including grants of $ 298,756) (Revenue $ 24,685,882)

Conferences and SeminarsConferences provide the venue to bring together members, community leaders and scholars to discuss current and upcoming issues in the computing field, the latest technology and groundbreaking research. These conferences, for the most part, are associated with the 34 Special Interest Groups and are driven by the volunteers in that particular field of special interest in computing. ACM sponsors or co-sponsors over 150 of these events each year varying in size and scope from 25 to 25,000 attendees

4c

(Code) (Expenses $ 1,168,281 including grants of $ 847,103) (Revenue $)

ACM Awards ProgramACM is the world's largest educational and scientific computing society. ACM's overarching goal is to advance computing as a science and a profession. A very important part of this goal is to recognize outstanding technical and professional achievements in computing and computer science through our series of awards. ACM's awards celebrate our long tradition of honoring those whose contributions have impacted our world for the better in countless ways. These prestigious and internationally recognized honors are an integral part of ACM's mission to unite computing educators, researchers, and professionals to inspire dialogue, share resources and address the field's challenges

(Code) (Expenses $ 8,310,174 including grants of $ 934,715) (Revenue $ 8,635,848)

Membership and Other Program SupportThese activities represent ACM's activities outside of the Publications, Conferences and Awards. As with Conferences and Publications these programs are available to ACM members and the general public. They include such things as the International Scholastic Programming Contest (ICPC), the distinguished lecturer program, Guide to computing literature, educational and education policy activities, curriculum studies and recommendations, computer science teaching discipline support, support for accreditation, diversity and chapter activities. Support for ACM's Professional and Student members also includes email forwarding, professional development books and courses, career news, and other electronic publications on computing technology and technological interests and news

Audit Committee Oversight of Annual Audit	Audit Committee Oversight of Annual Audit	The Association (ACM) has an Audit Committee that is appointed by the ACM Council and the Committee reports directly to the ACM Council. The Committee is responsible for the selection of the independent public accounting firm to conduct the annual audit of the year-end financial statements. The Audit Committee meets with the audit firm and reviews and approves the audit plan prior to the audit, the audit results, the management report and all required communications after the conclusion of the audit. The Committee then makes a recommendation to the ACM Council to accept or not accept the report prepared by the audit firm and informs the Council on any items it deems necessary. This process is unchanged from the prior year.
