Statement 1 – Form 990, Part III, line 1 – Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Orphan's Tree, Inc. is dedicated to bringing the benefits of family and God's hope to Russian orphans when they are most alone.

Orphan's Tree, Inc. (the Organization), is committed to supporting programs that will have the greatest influence in the lives of orphans and at-risk kids in today's Russia. There are current challenges that we can target as we participate in providing solutions for the benefit of at-risk kids with two NGOs (non-governmental organizations) – Nadezhda Fund and Together Fund.

The Organization is a U.S. partner of the Nadezhda Fund, a Russian based NGO doing charitable work with orphans in Russia. The Organization works with the Nadezhda Fund in Moscow, Vladimir, Ivanovo and Kostroma regions.

The Organization also supports a second NGO in Russia, Together Fund. The Together Fund is doing work with young adult orphans in Kostroma, St Petersburg and Vladimir regions. The Together Fund is fully funded by the Organization.

There are four ways in which we provide program services to orphans in Russia:

1. We provide funds to support activities, supplies and travel expenses for various programs.
2. We provide salary support for Nadezhda Fund and Together Fund employees working with older orphans in the Organization's programs.
3. We send U.S. volunteers to Russia to work with older orphans on the various Organization's programs, and
4. We develop and obtain grants from Russian corporations to support the Organization's programs facilitated by Nadezhda Fund and Together Fund.

Statement 2 – Form 990, Part III, line 4a – Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Description

Ministry Programs: Expenses of $297,729, including grants of $170,109

We provide funds to support supplies and travel expenses for the various Organization programs described below. Included in these program costs are an allocated part of the Organization's staff compensation and operating expenses to achieve program objectives.

Leadership: Expenses of $14,422, including grants of $6,943

One of our objectives is to groom leadership and volunteering traits in young adult orphans. This development is done throughout all of our programs and specifically includes having young adult orphans revisit their home orphanages to discuss their experiences after graduating from the orphanage and giving encouragement to other orphans.

As an encouragement, trips are conducted for them to participate in. Participants for trips are selected based upon their participation and leadership in programs at the three ministry centers. These trips to various historical sites in Russia combine education and spiritual insights, with many children willing to open up and discuss what they are sensing about their faith.

Education: Expenses of $47,487, including grants of $22,090

Education takes place everywhere. As such, it overlaps with almost all programs. We desire to see orphans have doors opened for them through expanded educational opportunities. Typical examples of activities include appreciation seminars in art, music, and dance.

We are funding nine older orphans studying in Moscow and St Petersburg. We provide support for living expenses and, in some cases, tuition.

Job Preparation: Expenses of $31,705, including grants of $16,991

Orphans are becoming better educated, emotionally adjusted, and healthier citizens. However, a need exists for assistance in their first career steps. The objective is to not simply be placed in a job, but to find fulfillment and satisfaction from their work. Studies have shown, however, that only a third of orphanage graduates find employment and then twenty percent of them lose it within the first year. Among the reasons employers give for avoiding hiring orphans are lack of basic life, communication and job skills.

Responding to this critical need, Orphan's Tree offers internships at our Ministry Centers to equip the older orphans with job skills and allow them an opportunity to receive first-hand experience at a work place. For instance, in 2012 interns attended a conference on how to avoid trafficking (Born2Fly curriculum) and then went back to their regions and held seminars to train other older orphans.

Life Skills: Expenses of $51,445, including grants of $25,244

Raised in an orphanage, orphans typically struggle with what many in society grow up understanding. As children prepare to leave their orphanage, we desire to assist them in their transition to independent living in the outside world.

The ministry centers are drop-in centers where older orphans come for support, counseling, computer instruction, work out in the gym and receive counsel from our staff about their life and problems. We provide funds to support the activities held at the ministry centers that include training in basic life skills such as budgeting, interacting with teachers and others in authority, choosing good friends, being a good friend, elements of a healthy life style, and similar topics are offered. Training is provided in seminar and small group settings. U.S. teams that are sponsored by the Organization provide this training. Funding covers materials and day trips for the older orphans. Travel for the teams is funded by the Organization.

Young Families: Expenses of $36,198, including grants of $21,291

During the year ending June 30, 2012, we served seventeen young families in Vladimir, Kostroma and Ivanovo regions. We put into place our Mother's Day Out program which allows young mothers with respite care. Professional counseling and individual support and encouragement are key components of the Young Families program. There is also an emergency fund for unexpected illnesses or from a job loss.

Residential Care (Family Centers): Expenses of $3,757, including grants of $381

In this program, groups of both young men and women experience and learn from life in a family setting with a Russian couple. We provide partial support for three Lakinsk family centers. The remaining Lakinsk support comes from a grant, which we obtained from a Russian corporation (see Schedule O).

Dacha Project: Expenses of $95,758, including grants of $65,319

We provided funds for the Together Fund to renovate the Kostroma dacha, more than doubling the space of the building enabling us to run additional future programs. Going to a dacha in the summer is a strong part of the Russian culture. Dachas have vegetable gardens to raise food both for current use and for the coming winter months. Most important is the mentorship that transpires as staff members and young adult orphans work and recreate together.

We support a Program Manager and Assistant in Vladimir. In Kostroma, we fund a Program Manager who has extensive experience working with older orphans. Orphans learn practical skills such as renovation of a building and how to maintain a garden. They also enjoy recreational activities such as fishing at a nearby river and cooking meals together.

During the year ended June 30, 2012, we had four American teams spend time at the dachas working with and participating in activities with older orphans.

Faith, Hope, Love: Expenses of $6,442, including grants of $5,000

The Faith, Hope, Love Program supports vulnerable young women in crisis situations. These young women are living in desperate poverty and are the most likely to be forced to place their children in an orphanage.

Federal Statements

Statement 2 – Form 990, Part III, line 4a – Statement of Program Service Accomplishments (continued)

Flat renovation and other projects: Expenses of $10,515, including grants of $6,850

This program was designed to fill one of the most basic of needs for older orphans – housing.

Statement 3 – Form 990, Part III, line 4b – Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Description

Russian Operational Expenses: Expenses of $14,268, including grants of $11,152

The Organization provides supplemental funds for the staff of the Nadezhda Fund and Together Fund for oversight of programs and administrative needs. Also included in this category are supplies and travel expenses for Russian staff supporting the Organization's programs.

Statement 4 – Form 990, Part III, line 4c – Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Description

Ministry Journeys: Expenses of $110,128, including grants of $1,000

These expenses represent the cost of nine trips made to Russia by U.S. staff and volunteers.
