Part X, Line 2: The Association is exempt from federal income taxes

under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and applicable state law. Accordingly, no provision for such taxes has been recognized in these financial statements.

Accounting standards on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes addresses the determination of whether tax benefits claimed or expected to be claimed on a tax return should be recorded in the financial statements.

Under this guidance, the Association may recognize the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by taxing authorities, based on the technical merits of the position. Examples of tax positions include the tax-exempt status of the Association and various positions related to the potential sources of unrelated business income tax (UBIT). The tax benefits recognized in the financial statements from any such position are measured based on the largest benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. The Association has reviewed the tax positions for the open tax years (current and prior three tax years) and has concluded that no provision for income tax is required in the financial statements. There were no unrecognized tax benefits identified or recorded as liabilities during the period covered by these financial statements.

Form 990s filed by the Association are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) up to three years from the extended due date of each return. Form 990s filed by the Association are generally no longer subject to examination for the years 2008 and prior.

people diagnosed with asthma. We also work to raise awareness about COPD through programs and education designed to improve the quality of life of people living with the disease, and to support early detection of the COPD. Activities include: an annual educational conference; quarterly "Inspiration" newsletter (circ. 8,000); statewide collection and dissemination of health surveillance data; and statewide/midwest coalition activities to engage healthcare providers, patients and other in sharing information and establishing priorities for addressing COPD in our communities. Related to lung cancer, the association supports radon awareness efforts and tobacco cessation programs. In addition, we work closely with other organizations who work with us to secure additional funds for lung cancer research through passage of the Lung Cancer Mortality Reduction Act. Respiratory Health Association's programs reach people living in Chicago and throughout Illinois. In addition to the programs listed above, we also have programs and educational materials related to tuberculosis, influenza (flu), pertussis and other lung diseases.

These programmatic efforts are complemented by several policy initiatives to increase smoke free environments (including beaches, parks) and to resist efforts to create exemptions in the Illinois Clean Indoor Air Law, which we helped pass in 2007. We also helped pass a tobacco tax increase at the state level.
