Part VII Please note that compensation received by 2 board members was for work done outside their service as board members.

Part VI 11b The complete 990 document is made available to the Board of Directors prior to their regularly scheduled meeting.

The body reviews the document and formally approves submission.

Part VI B Policies

12c Each board member signs an agreement at the beginning of the year to identify any conflict of interest that should arise in board deliberations. The agreement requires board members to identify any potential conflicts they believe could arise, e.g., their place of employment, another governing board on which they sit, etc. The Board Chair has a copy of the agreements and is ready to question if there is a perception of conflict.

15a The Board of Directors and Executive Committee conduct an annual performance evaluation of the Executive Director. In that process they survey staff and external stakeholders for quality of performance vis a vis the position description. In determining compensation, the Executive Committee reviews the salary as it relates to similar positions rated in the Minnesota NonProfit Salary and Benefits Survey, a document published by the Minnesota Council of Nonprofits. The Executive Committee reports to the full Board of Directors and makes the salary recommendation based on the above.

15b Staff colleagues and external partners of each staff position are surveyed about their experience in working with the staff person whose annual performance review is being conducted. Salary adjustment is determined based on performance and a review of the NonProfit Salary and Benefits Survey mentioned above.

Form 990 Part III: Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Sexual Violence Prevention Minnesota Department of Health (MDH)

The goal of sexual violence prevention is to change the social context so that our response to sexual violence is before rather than after the harm and our focus is on preventing the perpetration of sexual violence. To this end, our ongoing collaboration with the Minnesota Department of Health and other prevention partners informs these activities. This work is supported primarily by MDH funds. Bringing new allies and partners into the prevention work is critical to its success across Minnesota. During FY 2012, we continued on our goal of bringing in new supporters from various sectors which are not typically involved in the issue of sexual violence. We hosted a day long Demand the Change for Children at Mall of America where we highlighted family and child friendly activities and entertainment to draw adults and children into conversation about how we can foster social change that promises healthy families and communities for all children. We have supported the state prevention plan by attending monthly leadership team meetings; monthly staff leadership coordination sessions; and co-hosting and presenting at quarterly Sexual Violence Prevention Network meetings. We worked collaboratively with MDH staff and other MDH partners to develop local community capacity to develop and implement primary prevention strategies and plans. We provided training to over 200 people in 12 communities across the state to assist them in starting a community based prevention team. We have provided ongoing technical assistance to the teams as they require. We also collaborated with the MN Men's Action Network in their work to engage men in sexual violence prevention; MN Network on Abuse in Later Life as they address prevention among the population of elders; MN Indian women's Sexual Assault Coalition and others. We provided ongoing training and technical assistance to 80+ rape crisis centers and allied organizations across Minnesota to enhance their capacity as prevention educators and catalysts of change. We are committed to making the prevention of sexual violence a priority in Minnesota and the funding and collaboration with the Minnesota Department of Health makes that possible.

Sexual Violence Justice Institute (SVJI) Minnesota SMART Team Funding MN Office of Justice Programs

In 2000 MNCASA began helping Minnesota SART teams develop collaborative processes that could enhance their ability to be more victim-centered in their response to reported cases of rape. We received funding from the State of Minnesota, Office of Justice Programs for the Sexual Violence Justice Institute, the program of MNCASA that works with these multidisciplinary teams. In Minnesota we work with 12 teams across the state as they assessed their community needs and status of the current response to rape; developed and implemented protocols built on best practice models; trained responders; and monitored and evaluated their work. We provided training and consultation to each team regarding their processes; brought teams together to learn from one another; supported the site coordinators as they learned best practices regarding process facilitation and group dynamics. Much of our work was on site with the teams' monthly meetings. We also conducted webinars, teleconference meetings with site coordinators, and issued training materials and documents to assist on emerging issues; maintained an updated website for ready access to supportive materials. The SVJI also sponsored trainings and resources for prosecutors and law enforcement officers regarding promising and best practices in the investigation and prosecution of sexual assault cases. We provided training to sexual assault advocates who are providing legal advocacy to survivors. The SVJI developed and disseminated a manual of best and promising practices regarding the accessibility and quality of forensic examiner programs as delineated by state law and federal rules and hosted a series of institutes to expand the capacity of prosecutors to use expert testimony in sexual assault cases and the capacity of advocates and others to serve as expert witnesses. Throughout the year we also collaborated with many partners in the criminal justice world including the MN County Attorneys Association, The Police Chiefs Association, The Minnesota Sheriffs Association, MN Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, the Minnesota Hospital Association, SANE nurses, prosecutors, advocates, probation officers, and law enforcement officers across the state.

Technical Assistance Grant, National SART Team Assistance Office on Violence Against Women

Many states and counties are establishing sexual assault response teams to address long standing barriers that keep victims of rape from trusting that the criminal justice system will take their reports of rape seriously and will help them achieve justice. It is well known that multidisciplinary collaborative teams, while well intentioned, often are unable to identify how to work together to solve the significant problems that local jurisdictions face. The goal of the Technical Assistance project is to provide targeted support to these efforts based in MNCASA's years of experience in successfully supporting Sexual Assault Response Teams. This project serves grantees of the Office on Violence Against Women who are committed to establishing successful SART teams. The TA project provides ongoing consultation and support to teams in Louisiana, and Utah. The TA staff also consult on an ongoing basis with many team members in communities across the US who are looking to enhance their teamwork and their victim centered approach to sexual assault response. We responded to referrals from the Grants to Encourage Arrest policies, Rural grantees and STOP grantees; conducted trainings at six national conferences; provided bi-monthly webinars on team coordination issues for a national audience with an average of 35 participants each; developed training and communication documents to help any jurisdiction which is attempting to begin a MD team.
