Adult Residential NCIA's Adult Residential program assists individuals with developmental disabilities to develop independent life skills so that they may attain the fullest level of community integration and inclusion possible. Based on a model of small alternative living units, we provide physical, clinical, and social environments designed to provide stability and continuity for individuals who would otherwise require institutional confinement. Residential services include 24-hour awake supervision to individuals. Staff provides ongoing skills training and support in activities of daily living, functional life skills, personal care skills, and basic health care. Additional skills training is provided as indicated by identified client preferences, interests, and needs, and as stipulated in each client's Individual Service Plan. At the end of FY12, the program was licensed for 98 residents and served an average of 92 during the year.

Management does not believe it has taken any tax positions that would not meet this threshold.
