Presbyterian College exists to provide an education in the arts and sciences within a distinctly Christian context. The purpose is set forth with the conviction that education in the liberal arts tradition can be achieved successfully only through an academic program which is characterized by excellence and through activities which contribute to growth of able minds, sound bodies, and strong moral character. The college calls for the pursuit of learning to take place in an environment of genuine intellectual freedom. The College opened the School of Pharmacy in the Fall of 2010. The School provides pharmacy education with a liberal arts college approach, integrating classroom learning with practical experience while emphasizing community, valuing each student, and focusing on patient care.

The College students take part in an annual letter writing campaign, sharing with their respective state legislators the benefits that tuition grants have afforded the students. These letters precede South Carolina Independent College and University Day-proclaimed each spring by the governor-when several PC students visit the state house as guests along with other students from SCICU member institutions. A reception sponsored by SCICU affords the students an opportunity to meet their legislators, and they are also recognized as special guests in both the house and senate chambers.

SchD_P03_S00_L04	Schedule D, Part III, Line 4	The College's collections are made up of library books, artifacts of historical significance and art objects. These collections are held for public exhibition, education and research.
SchD_P05_S00_L04	Schedule D, Part V, Line 4	The College's endowment consists of approximately 759 individual funds established for a variety of purposes including scholarships and support of academic and sports programs.
SchD_P10_S00_L02	Schedule D, Part X, Line 2	The Internal Revenue Service has determined that the College is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code as an organization described in Section 501(c)(3). Due to this determination, the College is also exempt from state income taxes. The College is subject to federal and state income tax on its net unrelated business income. The college adopted the provisions of FASB guidance on income taxes related to the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. This guidance clarifies accounting for uncertainty in a tax position taken or expected to be taken by an entity and hence in the income taxes recognized in financial statements. Essentially, the College would record a liability if it took a position about taxes due that was likely to be disputed and had a reasonable chance of being overruled by a taxing authority. Management believes there are no such positions as of June 30, 2012 and 2011 and accordingly, no liability has been accrued. Tax years ended June 30, 2009 or later remain open to examination by taxing authority.

F990_P06_S0B_L11b	Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 11b	The institution's form 990 is prepared in the College's accounting office, then reviewed by the Controller, the EVP for Finance, and the President. The Form 990, including all schedules, is provided to the Audit Committee of the Board of Trustees and is an agenda item for a meeting of the Audit Committee, where those trustees ask any questions they have of the College staff. The trustees on the Audit Committee are independent and experienced in financial matters. After review by external tax advisors, the institution provides the final form 990 and all schedules except schedule B to all voting members of the governing board before the form is filed. (A redacted version of Schedule B, excluding donor names and addresses is provided to all trustees. Audit Committee members, however, would have already reviewed the un-redacted version of Schedule B, as noted above.)

Forms are reviewed by the College President and the EVP of Finance and Administration. Board members with conflicts recuse themselves from related decisions.
F990_P06_S0B_L15	Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15	The President's compensation is determined by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees after reviewing end of the year evaluation. The process is part of a two day meeting in August. Salary is compared with CUPA data for a comparison set of schools. Officer salaries are determined by the College President based on a mid-year and end-of-year evaluation of satisfactory achievement of goals and objectives. CUPA data for a comparison group of schools for similar positions is also considered. Officer salaries and comparative CUPA data are presented to both the Executive and Human Resource Committee of the Board. All of these decisions are documented in agendas and records of the appropriate committees and in the personnel files.
