The Global Community Trust's project, The Coffee Trust Description of the Guatemalan region The Ixil area is affected by poverty and exclusion and still suffers wounds inflicted by the Guatemalan civil war The average inhabitant has 3 3 years of formal education and the illiteracy rate is 39% (60 48% for women) Girls still have much less access to education than their male counterparts, and the overall quality of this education in the Ixil area is very low Health care in the Ixil area is limited to 1 doctor per 8,215 inhabitants The highest cause of mortality is from acute respiratory infections caused by heavy smoke inside the home According to the Third Census of Height Among School Children in the 1st Grade, in the Ixil region the growth of 76 9% of students has been stunted Furthermore, according to the study of food insecurity in Guatemalan municipalities, where being in 1st place denotes the least secure, the town of Nebaj is in 7th place, Chajul is in 9th place and Cotzal is in 15th place of 133 Rural areas are particularly insecure due to their high incidence of poverty (income of $2 00/day) and extreme poverty (income of $1 00/day) From the beginning the proposition was to focus on the area of education, especially for women and youth, in order to foment the development of skills and leadership, which are critical to fomenting change within the family and within the community as a whole This focus is based on the premise that educated women promote education and good health for their children, and also access alternative forms of income to improve the living conditions of their family In response to the 2010 diagnostic a strategic plan was developed for the Ixil region Sensitive to the overwhelming challenges facing the region, the strategic plan raised the bar on its education focus to include a comprehensive development strategy that also focused on health care, food security and economic development While education remains the base upon which The Coffee Trust approaches its work, without a comprehensive approach recognizing other critical areas of need, overcoming the deep seeded poverty in the region would remain elusive Due to the many challenges faced by the Ixil area, The Coffee Trust decided to work with Fundacin Ixil, a Guatamalan nonprofit organization, and designed its 2010-2012 strategic plan In the future,The Coffee Trust will directly support each local organization, including Fundacin Ixil, to strengthen their capacities and develop their organizational and financial sustainability In 2012, The Coffee Trust's accomplishments consisted of scholarships to support formal education starting from the middle school level up until an undergraduate university degree Of these, the middle and high school scholarship program of Limitless Horizons Ixil and the Kukuy program for girls based on the Starfish One by One model have proven the most effective in addressing the Ixil area's needs In addition to providing access to secondary education, these programs have promoted personal and professional development and have managed to generate a higher level of achievement among their students, especially in the case of Limitless Horizons Ixil It is hoped that Limitless Horizons Ixil, along with the Philanthropiece Foundation, will become involved in the administration of the Kukuy program for 2013, since they have experience and a track record of success in managing this type of program The Coffee Trust has also granted scholarships to study in the universities of UVG Solol, URL Quich and URL Quetzaltenango, which are supporting the education of youth who can then bring their skills back to their home community Of these programs, the UVG Solol program has presented the best results since, on top of being the first program established, its beneficiaries have gotten the most support through tutoring sessions and consistent visits Additionally, The Coffee Trust has identified the INTECAP technical training program as a priority since it provides access to scholarships to the large number of youth who are unable to continue with academic studies but who need skills and abilities to join the workforce 27 individuals have been trained in dressmaking and auto mechanic $150 is invested per student and the program indirectly benefits 96 individuals The expansion of preventative health training through the program Rural Woman to Rural Woman has contributed to the resolution of priority health problems in the Ixil area After 2 years, the program is developing very well in terms of the roles that the expert in charge and the promoters of each group play, as well as the training processes developed Currently, the midwifery training is being organized in partnership with the Spanish organization Medicos Descalzos ("Barefoot Doctors") in Nebaj Furthermore, through partnerships with the Institute of Rural Development (IDR) in rural areas, and with Helps International, the Philanthropiece Foundation, and Fundacin Ixil in the municipal centers of Chajul and Cotzal, access to safe, ventilated stoves has been provided so that homes are free of smoke and carbon monoxide To increase food security, the cultivation of family gardens and rearing of chickens for egg production have been promoted in Sotzil through the program implemented with IDR After climbing a steep learning curve during the first year, the program has successfully overcome challenges with the help of a contracted Ixil livestock farming technician who provides excellent follow-up with the chickens, as well as an Ixil promoter who has previous experience in strengthening the organizational capacity of groups, community health campaigns, and community alliances The construction of 5 homes has been initiated thanks to the partnership between Fundacin Ixil and Construcasa As part of this initiative, help with legalizing the land on which the houses are to be built and access to drainage and potable water systems has been provided to certain families Additionally, in partnership with the Women's Chajulense Association access to income generation through microcredit and savings has been supported This initiative has benefitted approximately 500 women who are strengthening their groups through the promoters and gaining access to training on financial literacy and saving methods so that they can generate their own capital and invest it back in this credit The honey project with the Chajulense Assocation is now self-sufficient financially and has received strong consultancy that has facilitated production methods that follow best practices for apiary cultivation and manufacturing Education Accomplishments Limitless Horizons Ixils (LHI) program provides scholarships for middle school and high school studies to highly impoverished youth Their comprehensive program complements the scholarship with wrap-around services including tutoring, computer classes, an intensive Spanish course, mentoring and one-on-one counseling, career advising, and a work-study program In 2012, LHI supported 65 youth through its program The total cost of putting a beneficiary through the program for one year is $830 USD (including administrative costs) LHI was granted $15,900 00 for this program, most of which went directly to scholarship payments Since August 2011, the organization Starfish One by One has provided Fundacin Ixil with support in establishing the foundations to develop the first year of this program The objective of the program is to provide girls and young women with access to middle school and high school education along with complementary training and psychosocial support so that they can be successful in their studies The program also supports them in identifying their strengths and developing them as leaders so that they have the tools they need to become agents of change within their family and their community In 2012, the project benefited 30 girls (12 from Chajul and 18 from Cotzal) The total annual cost of putting a beneficiary through the program is $1,000 USD (including the mentor and administrative costs) The Technical and University Education program is run through partnerships with University del valle (UVG) in Solol, which has 21 beneficiaries, University Rafael Landvar (URL) in Quich, which has 8 beneficiaries, and with University Rafael Landivar (URL) in Quetzaltenango, which has 2 beneficiaries The scholarships are granted through Fundacin Ixil for $3,500, $2,500 and $1,500, 20% of which will be repaid The Vocational Education program has served 16 youth in two sessions of dressmaking studies This program is also implemented through Fundacin Ixil The rural woman to Rural Woman program with Fundacin Ixil consists of working with pre-organized groups of women, particularly in Chajul Each group selects two volunteer promoters who are sent for training in traditional medicinal practices The woman in charge of the health program visits each group and
