THE EDUCATIONAL POLICY IMPROVEMENT CENTER (EPIC) SEEKS TO IMPROVE EDUCATIONAL POLICIES AND PRACTICES in ways that lead to more productive educational results for all students and particularly for students historically underserved by public schools. EPIC conducts a range of policy-related research studies in support of this goal. Epic's focus is on creating a climate of change that supports dramatically improved college and career readiness for more U.S. High school students.

If "Yes," describe these new services on Schedule O

If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O

	EPIC's mission is to improve educational policy and practices that will increase student success, particularly for students historically underserved by public schools. EPIC conducts a range of policy-related research studies and develops practical tools and techniques that support a dramatic improvement in college and career readiness for students. EPIC is distinguished by its pioneering use of state-of-the-art, criterion-based, standards-referenced methods of course and document analysis. One of EPIC's major accomplishments for 2011-2012 is the re-branding and integration of the College & Career Readiness System (CCRS). Over the summer of 2012, EPIC staff worked to integrate and re-skin our suite of web-based tools and services into one online system. At the close of the fiscal year, over 50,000 students from 95 schools had benefited from CCRS solutions, and recent system improvements were completed in anticipation of a significant increase in users in the coming years. EPIC has also built and continued significant partnerships in several exciting initiatives across the country. While not an exhaustive list, the following initiatives illustrate the range of projects undertaken and clients served: Alaska State Standards Alignment Study. For this study, EPIC is partnered with the Center for Alaska Education Policy Research, sponsored by the Alaska Department of Education and Early Development, to examine how well the state's new college and career ready standards align with the expectations of post-secondary instructors in Alaska. California Diploma Project. EPIC partnered with WestEd to provide information to state policy makers about the signals that California is sending to high school students about college and career readiness. Through crosswalk analysis, alignment, and validity studies, this work was designed to determine if current college and career readiness standards require the same levels and types of knowledge and skill in English/language arts and mathematics. Technical Assistance to the Innovation Lab Network. EPIC provided technical assistance to the eight Innovation Lab Network (ILN) States - convened by the Council of Chief State School Officers (CCSSO) - as they define, measure, and make policy for college and career readiness. The technical assistance included conducting environmental scans of each state's educational policy context, helping design context-appropriate accountability and assessment models, and supporting states in the design of pilots for new assessments. Generation TX San Antonio. EPIC worked with teachers in five pilot districts to design lessons aligned to both the Texas College and Career Readiness Standards and EPIC's Four Keys to College and Career Readiness. A customized version of EPIC's CampusReady diagnostic was administered to students and teachers as a pre- and post-assessment. Diagnostic data was matched with classroom observations and interviews to evaluate the effectiveness of new teaching strategies and content. Lumina Foundation NextGen Design. As one of the six award winners under the Lumina Foundation's Next Generation of Student Supports competition, EPIC designed, prototyped, and tested a Transition Management System, a dynamic digital space that helps students navigate the procedural, financial, cultural, and personal dimensions of the transition into an Open Enrollment Institution Job Training Program Curriculum Study. On behalf of the National Assessment Governing Board, EPIC was contracted by WestEd to conduct research on the knowledge, skills, and abilities for entry- and exit-level course work in five occupational pathways: automotive master technician, computer support specialist, HVAC technician, licensed practical nurse, and pharmacy technician. Roadtrip Nation Deeper Learning Evaluation. EPIC conducted "deep dive" evaluation of the pilot implementation of Roadtrip Nation's (RTN) high school program in three San Jose Unified School District PLUS Academies during the 2011-2012 academic year. This multi-method evaluation project used the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation's Deeper Learning Rubric to investigate the program's impact on deeper learning. In 2011-2012, EPIC also continued its significant partnership with the College Board through the Advanced Placement Course Audit (APCA). Representing its fifth year of operation, APCA provides teachers and administrators with clear guidelines on the curricular and resource requirements for Advanced Placement courses. Schools wishing to label a course "AP" on student transcripts must have each course syllabus authorized through the audit process. EPIC manages APCA's online platform and software, content experts and syllabus reviewers, and client call center services.
