donor base, DPS Foundation is helping address the challenges facing our public school system by granting over $12.4 million to DPS for priority programs and critical needs in fiscal year 2011-12, an increase of over 41% from 2010-11.

Gifts to DPS Foundation provide exponential impact. This was especially true in 2011-12 as DPS Foundation partnered with Denver Public Schools to garner over $4 million in private support for the "Denver Summit Schools Network." This initiative represents one of the first and most comprehensive efforts any district in the United States has made to turn around an entire feeder pattern of persistently low performing schools. Grounded in a blueprint developed with leading researchers and practitioners in education reform, Denver Summit Schools Network serves one of the poorest and most ethnically diverse regions of Denver and serves as a model for DPS and districts nationwide on how to dramatically improve education for all students. The community funding that allowed this work to be incubated and brought to scale is also a shining example of how a public/private partnership can create tremendous impact for students and the role DPS Foundation plays to facilitate these community investments.

DPS Foundation grants are in direct service to DPS students, schools, teachers and leaders. Denver Public Schools serves over 81,000 students in 174 schools. This is the highest overall enrollment in over thirty years. Seventy-three percent of DPS students qualify for the federal free/reduced meal program - a primary indicator of poverty. Thirty-one percent of DPS students are English Language Learners.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15: The executive committee of the board of directors determines compensation for the President/CEO. The executive committee considers the skill set of the President/CEO, considers past performance, reviews compensation at other not-for-profit organizations, consults with an executive coach/consultant about trends and reviews the current economy to determine compensation. Compensation is reviewed annually for the President/CEO and this review was last conducted in 2011.

Compensation for all other employees is determined by the skill set of the employee, past performance and is based on current market practices for similar duties performed by individuals in organizations of similar size. Compensation is directly approved by the President/CEO and ultimately approved by the board as part of its approval of the annual budget.

Form 990, Part VI, Section C, Line 19: Governing documents, conflict of interest policy and financial statements are all available to the public upon request. In addition, certain governing documents are available from other's websites and financial statements are available in our annual report to the public.
