Part III line 4d,

The total amount includes 10,000 for the development of a forest carbon synthesis, 8000 to conduct an LCI for Seattle Steam company, and the remainder to account for administrative and publication support for 4a-c. It includes costs associated with the management contract held at the University of Washington, many presentations, and other publications developed in association with all grants currently under contract.

Part IV 12 a and Part XII 2b

A financial audit of the period 2008 - 2012 is in progress in preparation for the development of an indirect rate required for continued funding by the USFS as the federal cognizant federal agency. Those results are not yet available for inclusion in this filing, so the boxes were checked as 'no'.

Part IV line 38 relative to Part VI lines 11 and 19

All financial actions are approved by the 18 person voting board in the form of a budget. An Executive committee is charged to make decisions for the Executive director that involve deviation from the budget plan that may relate to a potential conflict of interest that was not apparent to the board at the time of developing a budget. The annual report, inclusive of all Board decisions and financial statements are posted on the website. Formal audits are conducted after major research projects/grants and posted on the website with one currently in progress for 2008-2012. CORRIM encourages participating institutions in conducting life cycle research and competition for projects to advance the science so there is little concern over organizational conflicts of interest.

Part VI line 15,

CORRIM has no employees so compensation policies affecting officers that serve without pay are not applicable.

Part XII line 1,

Accounting is on a cash basis except that pledges are booked as revenue and a receivable when invoiced, and supporting technical service contracts are booked as encumbered expenditures (payables) when the contract is issued. This is not the same as accrual accounting, which is unnecessarily time consuming for not benefit while reducing the transparency of a and obligated funds. The expenditures can easily be adjusted to a cash basis when needed for reports.

Part VI lines 3, 11, and 19

Form 990 is completed by the Executive Director. The contents of the forms are reviewed with the Treasurer as an internal audit controller.

The forms are also reviewed by outside auditors in conjunction with formal end of project audits, typically every 4 years.

The financial statements forming the basis of the 990 report are published in the annual report which is approved by the Board and posted on the website. Formal audits are also posted. The written conflict of interest policy encourages organizations to compete on research with in the research interests of CORRIM.

If CORRIM provides the lead, any individual conflicts of interest are considered in preparation of the proposal and the Boards approval of budgets. Most Board members are faculty and may be involved in the research contracted with their institution. The selection of research institutions to provide the research for grants CORRIM receives is made by the full Board in an open discussion of who can best carry out the research needed considering both member and non-member institutions and consultants.

Part IV List of Officers and Board of Directors

18 research institutions make up the voting Board of Directors who donate time without compensation. The Executive Director is non-voting and would be considered a key employee if CORRIM had employees but provides the support through an administrative management contract currently with University of Washington.

Part XI line 5

Publication reserve in FY2010 was 4500, actual bill was $4448.65 netting a credit in 2011 of $51.35, rounded here to $51.

Part XII line 3

We are undergoing an audit, but we do not meet the criterion for the Single Audit Act as expenditures have not met the limit yet.
