Identifier	Return Reference	Explanation
Grantmaker's Description of How Grants are Used		The Laukien award recipient is selected by a prestigious committee headed by a Nobel laureate in chemistry. The award acknowledges outstanding research published within the last three years. In some special cases, the award may be for cumulative achievements over a longer period. The Ritchey award recipient is selected by a Committee of the Executive Committee. The selection is based upon the abstract submitted for conference presentation by the applicant and the applicant's letter of recommendation. The award is intended to defray conference related travel expenses for the recipient. Student travel awards - To be eligible a student must be a full-time graduate student at the time of the conference, provide student identification, submit a letter from their research advisor, and be a presenting author on a conference poster presentation. The stipends are limited to those who have not received a stipend in a previous year and must attend the annual conference.
