Management Board Update from GRCC meeting October 19, 2011

The current economic and capital market environments are particularly volatile. Although a more comprehensive proposal to address the European financial crisis is expected to be announced, broader concerns on the state of the global economic environment will continue. Although we may see a relief rally after European leaders come to decisions in early November, pressure on sovereign and credit markets, particularly on financials, across the globe is expected to continue.

Our consolidated balance sheet has been de-risked over the last several years, and we have gone through substantial product re-design, making us more 'in control'. However, the flip side is that there is very few low cost-of-capital initiatives remaining that can be executed as a contingency plan.

The nightmare scenario of the liquidity policy is projected to be breached by the holding company at the end of October since plans to refinance the April 2012 maturity with institutional Tier 2 are not executable in the current market environment. A management plan to remedy the situation is already in progress, but execution of the plan is still dependent on volatile capital markets and regulatory approvals.

Quarterly Base Case Holding Excess Capital targets are projected to meet the EUR 900mm by small margins during 2012. The 2012 forecast is still based on the old MTP which includes county unit dividends of EUR 1.4bn and CAM proceeds of EUR 332.5mn; we have reason to believe the new MTP will be less favorable for capital generation than last year's. The Base Case also assumes the refinancing activity is executed in Q4.

Although the Base Case forecast is projected to meet the 75% minimum CBR, an additional EUR ~600mm in management actions need to be identified to meet the 77.5% level. The EU has requested information on how AEGON intends to get to this level. Once the 2012 MTP is available, we expect this to add several hundred million more strain on our capital targets and CBR ratio.

The GRCC has recommended we identify further opportunities to free up capital. This process has already been initiated, however, as we have less low-cost of capital alternatives, we believe we need to consider restricting investment (investments in new ventures, expanding distribution agreements with banks which require capital) and consider further corporate action to free up capital such as disposals.

The GRCC recommendation is to immediately restrict capital investment in new ventures. It is anticipated that upon further review of the new MTP, and in conjunction with the current state of the market, we will need to shift the company's focus back to capital preservation and selling non-strategic or low return-on-capital blocks of business. It is also anticipated that an excess capital cushion of EUR 600mm above the EUR 900mm should be used as a buffer at the holding company to protect against unanticipated adverse situations, and/or to be used in anticipation of de-leveraging the balance sheet. It is our recommendation to provide capital preservation targets in order to achieve this buffer of EUR 600mm when viewed in light of the 2012 MTP.
