Officer & Director Loans	Schedule L Part II	Some of the officers and directors have loans outstanding with the credit union. These loans were obtained in the normal course of business of the credit union with the same terms and conditions available to all members. These loans are not required to be reported.
Related Party Transaction	Schedule L Part IV	While Director Soucy owns the building which the credit union leases and houses its administrative and back-office staff, Director Soucy excused himself for all Board of Director discussions regarding the decision to enter into the lease for the building. Additionally, a third-party commercial real estate firm, National Commercial Brokers, Inc. conducted a market survey for the credit union to ensure the credit union was paying a fair market lease rate and other pertinent conditions. Finally, the office of the Commissioner of Banks of Massachusetts reviewed the business transaction and had no negative comments on the transaction and approved the expenditure of funds.

Board review of Officer Compensation	Page 6 Part VI Section B Lines 15 a & b	The credit union's Board of Directors assigns responsibility to the Board's Personnel Committee to interview members of senior management for input in the preparation of a written performance evaluation of the credit union's President. The Personnel Committee is comprised of independent directors. The Personnel Committee will then present the written evaluation to the full board, along with a recommendation for compensation. The compensation level is based on a combination of the President's perceived value to the credit union and job performance. Based on the Personnel Committee's recommendation, the full Board approves the President's compensation. For members of senior management, written performance evaluations are prepared by the President and reviewed with the Board's Chairman. No other Board Directors are involved in the compensation discussions for senior management. Compensation is based on the value to the credit union and job performance.

Statement of uncertain Tax position	Form 990 page 3 Part IV Line 11f	The Credit Union is a state-chartered credit union described in Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 501(c)(14). As such, the Credit Union is exempt from federal taxation of income derived from the performance of activities that are in the furtherance of its exempt purposes. However, IRC Section 511 imposes a tax on the unrelated business income (as defined in Section 512) derived by state-chartered credit unions. Many states have similar laws. The specific application of Section 512 to the various activities conducted by state-chartered credit unions has been at issue for many years. The taxing authorities have the ability to assess taxes, penalties and interest for any years for which no tax return were filed. The Credit Union is subject to U.S. federal, or state and local income tax examinations by tax authorities for all open tax years. In the opinion of management, any liability resulting from taxing authorities imposing income taxes on the net taxable income from activities deemed to be unrelated to the Credit Union's nontaxable status is not expected to have a material effect on the Credit Union's financial position or results of operations. The Credit Union is a party to various legal actions normally associated with collections of loans and other business activities of financial institutions, the aggregate effect of which, in management's opinion, would not have a material adverse effect on the financial condition or results of operations of the Credit Union. Liability resulting from taxing authorities imposing income taxes on the net taxable income from activities deemed to be unrelated to the Credit Union's nontaxable status is not expected to have a material effect on the Credit Union's financial position or results of operations.
