Part X - FIN 48 Footnote

The Foundation was incorporated in 2000 and is exempt from Federal income taxes as an organization (not a private foundation) formed for charitable purposes under Section 501(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Donors may deduct contributions made to the Foundation within the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code. Under Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) Section 740, the tax status of tax-exempt entities is an uncertain tax position, since events could potentially occur that jeopardize the tax-exempt status. Management of the Foundation is not aware of any

Form 990 - Explanation of Amended Return

The 2012 Form 990 was amended to reflect amendments on Schedule A, Part III and Form 990, page 9, line 1C.

Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

The mission of The Jed Foundation (the Foundation) is to promote emotional health and prevent suicide among college and university students. To achieve this end, the organization collaborates with the public and leaders in higher education, mental health, and research to produce and advance initiatives that: Promote awareness and understanding that emotional well-being is achievable, mental illness is treatable and suicide is preventable; increase knowledge of the warning signs of suicide and emotional distress; foster help-seeking so that those who need supportive services reach out to secure them, or are referred to services by a peer; build and strengthen resilience, coping skills and connectedness among young adults, their peers, families and communities; facilitate adoption of a comprehensive, community-based approach to promote emotional health and protect at-risk students on campus; and raise the importance of mental health services, policies and programs in the college selection process of students and parents.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c - Program Service Accomplishments

JedCampus is an online self-assessment survey program that helps colleges explore and enhance their campus mental health and suicide prevention programming. The Jed Foundation will provide customized suggestions for enhancements which can become a road map for assisting schools in creating a comprehensive emotional health program on campus. The JedCampus seal will be awarded to schools that exhibit comprehensive mental health promotion and suicide prevention programming based upon evaluation of the school's survey responses against the Jed Foundation's recommended practices in mental health programming. If the self-assessment survey reveals gaps in programming, colleges and universities may work to address these areas and re-apply for a JedCampus seal after one year. Only the names of schools that are awarded JedCampus seals will be public. All other elements of this program including participants that do not receive a seal, survey responses and feedback reports are confidential.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4d - Other Program Services Description

The Foundation and mtvU partnered to develop a Peabody Award-winning and Emmy-nominated social awareness campaign that uses on-air PSAs and programming, an online resource center (www.halfofus.com) and on-campus events, to raise awareness about the prevalence of emotional disorders on college campuses and connect students with the appropriate resources to get help.

Ulifeline is an anonymous, confidential, online resource center where college students can be comfortable searching for the information they need and want regarding mental health and suicide prevention. The site includes information, interactive features, a screening tool and access to campus-specific resources for getting help. The site also includes Counseling Central, an area designed exclusively for college mental health and student affairs professionals. Currently, more than 1,400 colleges and universities participate in the Ulifeline network free of charge.

The Jed Foundation and the Bob Woodruff Foundation have partnered to create an online training tool that helps campus health professionals best understand the student veteran perspective, engage with them on campus, and provide the resources and support they need to succeed.
