PRESERVATION-The Foundation works to preserve endangered buildings and sometimes acquires properties and places easements on the property before re-sale. In some instances, the Foundation undertakes stabilization or restoration work before re-selling the property. The Foundation owned six historic properties at the beginning of 2011 but transferred ownership of one property during the year. The Foundation administers two funds dedicated to preservation and restoration activities--the Masterson Fund and the Whatley Fund. The Foundation serves in an advisory capacity to the Natchez Preservation Commission and works with the city to insure that public and private projects meet historic preservation guidelines. On a daily basis, the Foundation advises and assists architects, contractors, developers, craftsmen, organizations, and the general public on proper preservation and restoration methodology and on the design of new buildings to make them compatible within a historic context. The Foundation also assists citizens, accountants, lawyers, bankers, and developers on local, state, and federal issues and benefits related to the acquisition, development, and ownership of historic properties. The Foundation supports other non-profits by providing office and meeting space to organizations with common objectives, including (1) Natchez Downtown Development Association, (2) Natchez Green Alliance, (3) Natchez Historical Society, and (4) Natchez National Historical Park

The staff arranges visits and conferences that highlight Natchez history, historic preservation, architecture, landscape, gardens, and decorative arts. The Foundation opens its headquarters five days a week, on weekends with special programming, or by request. The Foundation also displays exhibits related to the themes previously cited. The Foundation operates a reproduction licensing program, which raises public awareness of the historical significance of Natchez and provides impetus for cataloguing the city's decorative arts. In 2012, staff members continued to invest substantial time in writing text and providing images to the City of Natchez for a "Museum of the Streets" project begun in 2009 in conjunction with a walking trails project. The Foundation also allows other non-profit organizations to use the facilities at no charge for meetings and educational programming

The Foundation's collections include books, photographs, documents, site files, subject files, artifacts, and public courthouse records. The archives and public records are made available on a daily basis to the public under the supervision of the Foundation staff. The Adams County Board of Board of Supervisors has entrusted the Foundation with the care and management of public courthouse records dating to the 18th, 19th, and 20th centuries. The county began locating circuit court records to the Foundation headquarters in 1992, and the program expanded in 2008 to include Chancery Court records. The county provides a small amount of funding for records management. The Foundation has sponsored a program in conjunction with universities and the National Park Service to preserve and catalogue these valuable historic documents. Part XIII Supplemental Information (continued)

Part III, line 4 The collections of the Historic Natchez Foundation all relate to the history of the Natchez region and fulfill the mission of the Foundation to foster, encourage, and engage in preservation, restoration, and development of historic or important sites, buildings, and personal property. The mission further states that this purpose shall be carried out in every way determined to be feasible, including, if necessary, the acquisition of historic buildings, sites, and other property. The collections, or personal property, that the Foundation owns and seeks to acquire includes primarily archival material, books, fine art, photography, decorative arts, and historical and architectural artifacts.

Part V, line 1B $500,000 of the proceeds from the 2009 Foundation-financed sale of Brandon Hall were transferred to the Endowment Fund.

Complete this part to provide additional information for responses to questions on Schedule L (see instructions)

Part IV, (1) Carol Hobdy-Stephens Hobdy Insurance has handled insurance for the Historic Natchez Foundation for more than 20 years. Carol Hobdy became a board member in 2009.

Part IV, (2) Duncan Morgan is the city's only master brick mason who specializes in masonry restoration. As a contribution to the Historic Natchez Foundation and to avoid any conflict of interest, he waived his percentage and the value of his own time and charged the Historic Natchez Foundation only for the cost of building materials and the labor cost of his employees. The work was all related to the restoration of the 1901 Natchez Institute

Part IV, (3) Edgin Construction is one of six local building firms with extensive experience in the restoration and rehabilitation of historic properties. The owners of two of these six firms have served on the Board of the Historic Natchez Foundation and owners of four of these firms have been member organizations of the Foundation. The timing of the project and the availability of the firm to do the work were the determining factors in the selection of the building firm. Restoration/rehabilitation work is generally undertaken on a cost-plus basis due to uncertainties associated with projects involving older buildings.

Part IV, (4) SOS, LLC is a large storage facility owned by former board member Richard Edgin of Edgin Construction

Part 1, 33 - Following accepted museum and archival practices and recommendations of professional organizations like the American Association of State and Local History and the American Association of Museums, the Historic Natchez Foundation elected in 2009 not to capitalize its collections (SFAS-116) unless an item was acquired specifically for re-sale to produce income for the organization's charitable works. Prior to making this change in 2009, the Foundation capitalized some collections, which continue to be reflected on Schedule D.
