Contemporary Native artists offer profound contributions to intellectual inquiry and global dialogue and work at the thresholds of exploration in unfolding creative terrains. They are deepening their impact on the field of arts practice and are forging new recognition in national and international communities.

The NACF Artist Fellowships Program, now in its third year, fosters the creativity of indigenous artists, allowing the opportunity for study, reflection, experimentation, and innovation.

Support for the field is of vital importance to the sustainability of Native arts and cultures practices across the board and is a strategy to develop meaningful assets among a strong cohort of regional partners. In 2012 our strategy was to increase our investment and deepen our involvement with partner organizations in developing the capacity of their operations and the quality of their respective programs.

We expect that the initiative will bring organizational leadership together to build synergies on a national stage, sharing best practices and developing programming and advocacy strategies that best serve the field.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c. Each director, officer, and staff member must annually sign a statement that affirms that such person has (a) received a copy of our conflict of interest policy, (b) has read and understands this policy, and (c) has agreed to comply with our policy. Compliance includes the following provisions:

Whenever any director, officer, or staff member becomes aware that we are considering a transaction that potentially creates a conflict of interest, that person is obligated to notify the board and to disclose all material facts relating to the person's interest in the transaction.

The board will determine whether an actual conflict of interest exists and take action that the board deems appropriate. The interested person may not be present when the board makes its determination other than to answer questions. If no conflict of interest is found to exist, the minutes of the meeting must record the basis of the board's determination.

If the board determines that a transaction would create a conflict of interest the transaction must be approved in advance by only those board members who do not have a conflict with respect to the transaction. Any interested person therefore must excuse themselves from consideration of the transaction. Such person may not vote on the transaction or be present during any discussion of the transaction other

To further achieve our charitable mission, we are planning two additions to programs:

2014 National Convening

NACF's 2nd Native Arts Convening will bring together in a national indigenous think tank Native artists, funders and arts organizations to present and review innovative models and develop effective strategies for supporting the arts and cultures of American Indian, Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian peoples. This convening continues the work begun with our 2011 National Convening.

100,000 Acts of Art

NACF is currently in the planning phase of 100,000 Acts of Art ("AoA"), an innovative, highly collaborative ten-year initiative and signature program that will elevate appreciation of Native arts, cultures, and knowledge and of Native artists as agents of positive social change in our nation. After three years of providing support to Native artists and communities through fellowships and community-based arts activity, NACF believes in this time of profound cultural upheaval, artists are at the forefront of creative thinking about the direction of our nation. Through focused, intentional work, AoA will raise awareness and consciousness – both inside and outside Native communities – facilitating arts-driven social transformation in the areas of cultural equity, community development and environmental justice via rigorous, long-term support and promotion of the work of Native artists, writers, poets, filmmakers and others.

Advocacy for the Field

Advocacy for the field of Native Arts and Cultures throughout all fifty states through general support and representation is a significant part of our mission. Beyond our website and our publications, we achieved our objective in 2012 through attending field-specific conferences hosted by affiliate organizations such as the Council on Foundations and the Association of Tribal Archives, Libraries, and Museums, collaborative meetings with stakeholders such as the Indigenous Forum of Bioneers and Philanthropy Northwest, attending stakeholder events such as the Alaska Federation of Natives and the National Congress of the American Indian conferences; site visits to grantees such as IAIA, 7th Generation Fund and First Peoples Fund; serving other grantmakers such as the San Francisco Arts Commission and RACC; and support for the field such as the American Indian Film Festival and the annual Canoe Journey.
