The objective of the foundation is to promote the rich and very old classical performing arts of South India to audiences in the United States, provide a premium performance platform for talented youngsters in the US, and present educational events by knowledgeable professional South Indian performing artists. In order to meet these objectives, in 2012, Pallavita organized concert tour for 2 vocalists and a violinist, with percussion and string accompanists. Performances were organized in 25 venues in the US and over 10,000 people attended these events. Over 1000 students benefitted from these educational events. Pallavita organized a 2-day Festival in Fremont, South Indian classical performances by over 250 youngsters from around the US and educational events by visiting Indian professional artists. Over 2000 people attended these events. All these events were open to the public.

None of the members of the board or the executive staff were paid any remuneration.

The work for the events was done by volunteers. Event management was by volunteers as well.
