Part VI, Section B, line 11b --- The process by which the organization's governing board members reviewed Form 990 for 2012. A copy of the draft Form 990 and its attachments was provided to all members of the governing body for their personal review. Each member was asked to comment on the Form 990 before it was submitted for signature to the organization's president and subsequent filing.

Part VI, Section B, lines 12-14 --- The organization regularly and consistently monitors compliance with conflicts of interest by routine meetings attended by all trustees and, frequently, others involved with the organization on a voluntary basis. The nature of the organization's activities is such that conflicts of interest are not likely to occur. This answer is provided even though "No" is the correct response to 12a. The trustees consider a whistle-blower policy as unnecessary. Additionally, there is no document retention and destruction policy other than the policy to maintain records suitable for compliance with IRS rules, regulations and requirements for record-keeping purposes.

Part V, question 1c --- "Yes" is answered to this question even though the organization was not subject to backup withholding rules for reportable payments to vendors and reportable gaming winnings to prize winners.

Part VI, Section B, line 15b --- None of the organization's trustees or officers are compensated. The only "key employees" are ministers whose remuneration is made in accordance with IRS rules, regulations and other guidance for ministers' compensation. Ministers' remuneration is set by trustees after careful consideration of responsibilities, expectations and comparability data, and contemporaneous substantiation of the deliberation process and decisions is made.

Part VI, Section C, line 19 --- All records of the organization are available for public inspection if the inquiring party has a legitimate interest in supporting the organization's mission or there is otherwise a need to know.

Part V, question 2b --- The organization's "employees" are remunerated as ministers, in accordance with IRS guidelines. As such, they are not subject to withholding for Social Security and Medicare taxes and/or federal and state income tax withholding. Accordingly, quarterly filing of forms 941, etc. is not applicable.
