Form 990 - Part I - Line 1 and Part III - Line 1

CommunityWorks in West Virginia creates housing and community development solutions for all West Virginians through a network of member organizations.

Form 990 - Part III - Line 4a

Formed in 1991, CommunityWorks in West Virginia, Inc has served to unite local housing-related agencies and organizations to assure safe and affordable housing for West Virginians for over twenty years. Representing twenty-seven organizations, CWWV provides a variety of services to its members through technical assistance and training, innovative mortgage lending products, and member support programs including advocacy at the federal and state levels.

The following three-year strategic plan was developed through a facilitated retreat process and represents the ideas, energies and vision of the board of directors, staff and membership. Building upon strengths and opportunities, the strategic directions outlined will focus on creating sustainability and success for the organization through a formula of strong leadership, financial adaptability, and diversification of core programs to achieve an expanded mission.

Accountability is built into implementation of the plan through goal champions, active working committees, and quarterly monitoring of progress by the board of directors.

Critical success factors include:

program effectiveness and efficiency engagement and support of key stakeholders financial and human resource capacity

CommunityWorks in West Virginia's strategic plan will be guided by a compelling vision for the future, an expanded mission, and core values to guide decision-making and operations.

Vision

Through CommunityWorks in West Virginia and its partners, West Virginia will have thriving, healthy, equitable communities.

Mission

CommunityWorks in West Virginia creates housing and community development solutions for all West Virginians through a network of member organizations.

Core Values

We believe

- That every West Virginian deserves a decent, safe, home
- That proactive problem solving and building a strong collective voice will advance housing solutions
- In providing quality, responsive services and continuous learning opportunities for our members and communities
- In fiscal responsibility, sustainability, and accountability to our funders and member organizations Programs supporting its Mission

The Affordable Housing Internship Program provides graduate level students in the fields of Public Administration, Social Work, and Business with an opportunity to learn about and become interested in the affordable housing industry in West Virginia.

CommunityWorks in West Virginia, Inc. has recognized the need to attract young leaders with formal training at the graduate level to the affordable housing industry since many of the current leaders within local housing agencies and organizations are approaching retirement age and young talent is needed to address the challenges related to community development and innovative housing solutions throughout West Virginia. Attracting young graduates to the affordable housing industry is essential if the industry is to continue to move forward in future years.

In order to address these needs, CommunityWorks in West Virginia has provided twelve week internships for graduate students for the past four years. The program has provided internship placements for 38 graduate level students through a partnership with graduate schools at higher education institutions in West Virginia (primarily West Virginia University, Marshall University, and West Virginia Wesleyan). The CWWV Internship program has been highly valued by both graduate level students who have participated and sponsoring organizations that have benefitted from the program.

Volunteer Program

CommunityWorks in West Virginia, a statewide intermediary of nonprofit organizations provided support for local, volunteer-based housing organizations in their efforts to assist low income and elderly homeowners with needed repairs and rehabilitation of their homes during the past year. Assistance is provided to local organizations in the form of relatively small grants for needed construction materials, tools, transportation of volunteers to work sites, or other tangible items necessary to support the volunteer labor available to these local programs. Available funds are distributed to local volunteer organizations through small grants to purchase materials, supplies and other items needed in order to take full advantage of volunteer help in rehabilitating housing. CWWV provided volunteer-based programs with financial assistance during 2012 resulting in the rehabilitation of an estimated 152 housing units and 7 new homes constructed located in a number of different counties of West Virginia. Owner occupied rehabilitation assisted through these volunteer-based programs are those below 30% of the AMI and are often elderly or handicapped people in need of assistance.

Housing Day at the Legislature

In addition to the programs mentioned above CommunityWorks in West Virginia also sponsored Housing Day at the Legislature, on February 16, 2012 which provides a platform for its network of member organizations and other community partners to make aware the critical need for affordable housing in West Virginia.

CommunityWorks Conference

Over 75 individuals representing nonprofit organizations, housing authorities, community action agencies, state housing agencies and financial institutions participated in the CommunityWorks in West Virginia Annual Membership Meeting and Affordable Housing Conference held at Stonewall Resort in Roanoke, WV in October. The keynote speaker, Donald Phoenix, Southern District Director of NeighborWorks® America, talked about spoke highly of the peer to peer partnering among these organizations.

The attendees heard from panel members who were participating in the different programs sponsored by CommunityWorks such as their Community Design Innovations program, their Volunteer Based Programs and their Affordable Housing Internship Program which provides graduate level emerging leaders from West Virginia University and Marshall University the opportunity to work with different nonprofits in order to gain knowledge of the affordable housing industry. CommunityWorks is also encouraging the development of a formal training program at the university level, so that future leaders in this industry will have the tools and experiences they need to make an ever greater impact on the housing needs in West Virginia. Jane C.W. Vincent, Regional Administrator of the HUD Region III Office; and Erica Boggess and Steve Fisher with the WV Housing Development Fund provided an update of the state and federal programs on affordable housing as well.

During 2012, CommunityWorks provided loan funds through its networks members assisting 2 homeowners; and 4 owner occupied families with repairs to their home.
