Human Rights Resource Center for ASEAN - The ratification of the ASEAN Charter in 2008 brought with it the historic commitment from ASEAN to establish an ASEAN human rights body. ASEAN has now fulfilled this promise by establishing the ASEAN intergovernmental Commission on Human Rights (AICHR). The Human Rights Resource Centre has been designed to complement the work of the AICHR by focusing on awareness raising, research, capacity building as well as training and teaching on issues of human rights, the rule of law and other relevant areas in the ASEAN region. The Human Rights Resource Centre (HRRC) consists of a central hub institution linked to a university-based network to support and provide research, education, and training on human rights issues in ASEAN. This network's hub, called the HRRC, is hosted at the University of Indonesia in Jakarta. The centre draws upon academic and civil society expertise throughout a network of leading universities in the region with recognized human rights programs. HRRC will provide reports, studies and training related to a range of human rights issues in the region in line with the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, including rule of law, judicial independence, women and children's issues, indigenous peoples, migrant labor rights, regulatory environments for human rights, and law enforcement approaches. The Foundation is one of the founders of the HRRCA, and sits on its international Board of Advisors. It has assisted in the incorporation of the center as well as providing support in its projects. The first project to be initiated by the HRRCA is a baseline rule of law survey of the 10 ASEAN countries. In conjunction with the baseline study, the Foundation, with other partners, sponsored a fact finding mission to 5 ASEAN countries by members of the judiciary, academia and non-governmental organizations.	$ 16,116.
