 In 1995, Earth Mission helped open the Gilgit Eye Hospital with the express purpose of providing quality eye care to people in the remote, Gilgit-Baltistan area of Pakistan. The hospital employs local staff including a local ophthalmologist. Services include an outpatient clinic, a full optical workshop, a well stocked pharmacy and day surgery. Over the last few years the government has worked to begin providing education as well through a Special Needs School. GERC has come alongside during this time and helped train. They will now allow the government too provide these services.

GERC will continue to work with a community based program which offers help for a wider range of physically-limited children and their families in the Gilgit-Baltistan area.

For experienced medics, Earth Mission helps FBR doctors, nurses and senior medics conduct regular month long review courses. When necessary, medics are able to transport stable patients to medical facilities beyond the conflict zones, to countries where high quality care is available.
