Part V Supplemental Information

Identifier	Return Reference	Explanation
		Management engaged its auditor to begin fieldwork for the annual 2012 audit during March of 2013. The auditors encountered significant difficulty in obtaining information from the former business manager, including significant amounts of missing documentation and evasive answers to inquiries. Management acted quickly in assisting the auditors to obtain this information and, under pressure from management, the business manager tendered her resignation. Management promptly hired a new interim business manager to assist with completing the audit, and a fraudulent asset misappropriation scheme perpetrated by the former business manager was uncovered while attempting to locate supporting documentation for the audit. Governance was immediately informed and the organization began taking steps to resolve the situation. A forensic audit was completed on May 24, 2013 by an independent accounting firm for the purposes of documenting fraudulent activities by Hugworks' former business manager. As a result of this audit, $59,941 and $34,056 for 2012 and 2013, respectively, in fraudulent transactions were identified. These charges were primarily due to unauthorized charges on the Hugworks credit cards and forgeries on Hugworks bank accounts. Hugworks has filed charges with the Economic Crimes Unit of the District Attorneys Office of Tarrant County. All necessary steps to move forward with prosecution of parties involved and restitution of loss are being taken. Management immediately implemented preventative steps, including reorganizing of the accounting system, and implementing proper checks and balances over the staff, including board oversight, to avoid any future problems of this nature. The organization filed a claim with their insurance carrier and has received a settlement for $25,000. Hugworks does not expect to receive any further monies as Ms. Fletcher does not have the resources to make restitution.
