What is the organization's primary exempt purpose?
 Denver City Lacrosse is a non-profit youth development organization creating educational and life opportunities for young people in under-served Denver communities through the sport of lacrosse. Denver City Lacrosse works to create opportunities for inner-city youth in the Denver area. The sport of lacrosse can provide both on the field and classroom lessons. The game itself provides a framework to learn about sportsmanship, teamwork and character. The game's history and tradition allow motivated students to fulfill their potential through the numerous educational opportunities associated with lacrosse. While we teach kids to become competitive lacrosse players, we want participants to improve their academic performance, have a quality high school experience and challenge themselves with a college education.
