Reasonable Cause Explanations

Explanation

Previously Berkeley Model United Nations failed to file their 990-EZ for fiscal year 6/01/2012-5/31/2013. Shortly after realizing this mistake, a representative for Berkeley Model United Nations contacted the IRS, upon which an IRS representative informed them that since it was their first offense, and it takes three consecutive years of not filing to lose their tax-exempt status, to not worry about the missed filing and just be sure to file each subsequent year. As Berkeley Model United Nations did not receive any notice of delinquency or penalty during that year or after any subsequent filing, they heeded the IRS representative's advice and did not backfile for that missed year but did file on-time each year. As Berkeley Model United Nations is based out of California, it is also a registered California Charitable Trust. Recently, Berkeley Model United Nations received a notice of delinquency from the California Registry of Charitable Trusts for failure to send the Registry their 990-EZ for fiscal year 6/01/2012-5/31/2013. On June 7, 2017, I, Danny Tuthill, as Secretary-General for the organization for the previous fiscal year (6/01/2016-5/31/2017), spoke to a representative of the California Registry of Charitable Trusts and a representative of the IRS who informed me that Berkeley Model United Nations is at fault and does indeed need to backfile their 990-EZ for fiscal year 6/01/2012-5/31/2013. In order to remedy this mistake as quickly as possible, I am filing the 990-EZ for the delinquent fiscal year now. Myself and the organization at large realize that this filing is multiple years overdue. As the representative of Berkeley Model United Nations that originally spoke to the IRS about the missed filing for the delinquent fiscal year is no longer apart of the organization, myself and the current organization at large were not aware of our delinquency. It was not until we recently received the letter of delinquency from the California Registry of Charitable Trusts that we were made aware of our missed filing, and now we are attempting to remedy this situation as quickly as possible.
