Part IV Supplemental Information. Complete this part to provide the information required in Part I, line 2, Part III, column (b), and any other additional information.

Part I, line 2: The University of Akron is the sole beneficiary of grants from the Foundation. The restrictions donors place on their contributions determine how the funds can be used by the University. The Foundation requires that a University restricted account be set up for each donor restriction. A database is used to attach The University of Akron account number to the corresponding Foundation account number. The database information is then used by the Foundation to ensure that the funds it transfers to the University are deposited into the proper matching accounts with the same donor restrictions. The Controller's office at the University of Akron is supplied with copies of the donor agreements which list the gift restrictions. The employees in the Controller's office then use those agreements to ensure funds are used by the University as the donors have stipulated.

Part II, Line 1h: The Foundation's purpose is to operate exclusively for the benefit of The University of Akron. The funds transferred to The University of Akron are to be used for many purposes such as scholarships, fellowships, lectureships, department chairs, professorships, equipment funds, assistance to The University of Akron colleges and departments, improvement of the campus landscape, and support of the Performing Arts Hall.
