INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANT'S REVIEW REPORT

March 25, 2014

To the Board of Directors of
Center for the Study of Public Policy, Inc.
Somerville, Massachusetts

We have reviewed the accompanying statement of assets, liabilities and net assets - cash basis of Center for the Study of Public Policy, Inc. (the "Center") (a Massachusetts nonprofit organization) as of August 31, 2013 and the related statements of revenues, expenses, and other changes in net assets - cash basis, for the year then ended. A review includes primarily applying analytical procedures to management's financial data and making inquiries of the Center's management. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with the cash basis of accounting and for designing, implementing, and maintaining internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements.

Our responsibility is to conduct the review in accordance with Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Those standards require us to perform procedures to obtain limited assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statements. We believe that the results of our procedures provide a reasonable basis for our report.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be conformity with the cash basis of accounting, as described in Note 2.

Our review was made primarily for the purpose of expressing a conclusion that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with the cash basis of accounting. The supplementary information included in the statement of expenses for administrative and program services is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the inquiry and analytical procedures applied in the review of the basic financial statements, and we did not become aware of any material modifications that should be made to such information.

Yours truly,

CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF PUBLIC POLICY, INC

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS - CASH BASIS
FOR THE YEAR ENDED AUGUST 31, 2013

1. ORGANIZATION

Center for the Study of Public Policy, Inc. (the "Center") was organized in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as a nonprofit corporation on March 7, 1968. The mission of the Center is to promote research and dialogue on matters of current public policy concern. Since 1969, the Center has supported projects that seek to advance public knowledge and citizen participation in the areas of civic engagement, environmental protection, community development, international relations, and the promotion of peace.

The Center maintains a low administrative structure composed of volunteer officers who seek to support its projects during initial start-up activities. Once projects become well established and have achieved a mature revenue base, it is the general policy of the Center to spin them off to other organizations or to assist them in the establishment of their own non-profit corporations.

The following is a description of the Center's current activities and programs:

Independent Political Action

This program provides editorial seminars for publications.

Global Chemicals Outlook

The program involved the writing of a chapter for a United Nations report on international chemicals management.

International Ban on Asbestos

A program designed to support the activities of the International Ban Asbestos Secretariat (IBAS), which provides a conduit for the exchange of information between groups and individuals working to achieve a global asbestos ban and seeking to alleviate the damage caused by widespread asbestos use. Such use may be largely historical in the established economies of the West, but continues in developing nations.

Since its inception, IBAS has been involved in co-sponsoring and supporting national and international conferences furthering the aforementioned aims. In doing so, it has sought to counter the asbestos industry's control of the information stream and to provide a platform for victims to speak out against the injustices they have suffered.

The IBAS channels the views of a network of victims' groups, medical and legal professionals, and concerned individuals. IBAS has a continuing role in raising public awareness of asbestos hazards and providing informational comments on current developments.

Male Breast Cancer Project

As the result of chemical contamination of ground and drinking water at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina during the latter half of the twentieth century, an apparent cluster of male breast cancer victims have been identified among Marines and their dependents who were residents at Camp Lejeune.

This project purpose is to expand prior collaborative research and scientific discovery resulting in a new review of current literature on the causes of male breast cancer suitable for publication in a peer-reviewed journal. In addition, information will be made available through electronic means and through speaking engagements about the state of the evidence linking contaminated water to a variety of health issues identified to date.

1. ORGANIZATION (CONT.)

Materials Matter

This program promotes the dissemination of information on sustainable materials policy.

New Solutions

A journal is maintained online (www.newsolutionsjournal.com) delivering authoritative responses to perplexing problems, with a worker's voice, an activist's commitment, a scientists approach, and a policy-maker's experience. The Center provides editorial services to the journal.

New Solutions explores the growing, changing common ground at the intersection of health, work, and the environment. The journal makes plain how the issues in each area are interrelated and sets forth progressive, thoughtfully crafted public policy choices. It seeks a conversation on the issues between the grassroots labor and environmental activists and the professionals and researchers involved in charting society's way forward with the understanding that lack of scientific knowledge is no excuse for doing nothing and that inaction is itself a choice.

In recognition of the globalization of health problems, environmental issues and economic activity, the Journal strives for an international focus. It investigates problems of occupational and environmental health with the people at risk—the workers and the community—uppermost in mind. And New Solutions takes the discussion beyond merely explaining the extent of hazard, the parameters of debate, and the limitations of scientific knowledge to offer actions—solutions—to deal with the dilemmas of workplace, community, and environmental threat.

New Solutions is written for both the academic and educated lay audience. Its intention is earnest: to affect the public health policy discussion and shake up the policy debate.

Precautionary Principle

This program purpose is to edit a volume of public health reports and complete a book for Island Press, a nonprofit organization that works to provide the best ideas and information in the field to those seeking to understand and protect the environment and create solutions to complex problems. The book's focus will be on precautionary approaches to public health.

United Nations Environment Project

The program provided support for two United Nations researchers in the preparation of a report on economic instruments for sound chemical management.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The accompanying financial statements reflect the application of certain significant accounting policies as described in this note and elsewhere in the accompanying financial statements and notes.

CASH BASIS

The financial statements of the Center have been prepared on the cash basis of accounting which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"). Consequently, contributions and other sources of revenues and support are recognized when they are received rather than when promised or earned, and certain expenses and purchases of assets are recognized when cash is disbursed rather than when the obligation is incurred.

CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF PUBLIC POLICY, INC.

---

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONT.)

FUND ACCOUNTING

The accounts of the Center are maintained in accordance with the principles of fund accounting. Under fund accounting, resources for various purposes are classified for accounting and reporting purposes into funds established according to their nature and purpose. Separate accounts are maintained for each fund; however, in the accompanying financial statements, funds that have similar characteristics have been combined into fund groups. Fund balances are classified on the statement of assets, liabilities and net assets as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted net assets based on the absence or existence and type of donor-imposed restrictions.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with the cash basis of accounting requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Estimates are used for, but not limited to, allocation of overhead expenses to program services. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

For financial statement purposes, the Center considers all short-term investment and debt securities purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

CONTRIBUTIONS

All contributions are considered to be available for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted by the donor or grantor. Amounts received that are designated for future periods or restricted by the donor or for specific purposes are reported as temporarily restricted or permanently restricted support that increases those net asset classes. However, if a restriction is fulfilled in the same time period in which the contribution is received, the Center reports the support as unrestricted.

EXPENDABLE RESTRICTED RESOURCES

Funds restricted by the donor, grantor, or other outside party for particular operating purposes are deemed to be earned and reported as revenues of operating funds when the Center has incurred expenditures in compliance with specific restrictions. Such amounts received but not yet earned are reported as temporarily restricted net assets.

INTEREST AND DIVIDEND INCOME

The center earns interest on cash balances. Investment income is used to fund operations and, accordingly, is presented as unrestricted revenue.

TAX STATUS

The Center is exempt from income taxes under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC"). In addition, the Center is registered with the Public Charities Division of the Office of the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts ("AGO") and is recognized as a public charity due to its exemption from income taxes under the IRC. Therefore, no provision for federal or Massachusetts income taxes has been made in these financial statements. The Center is not classified as a private foundation.

As of August 31, 2013, the Center was unaware of any uncertain tax positions taken on any of its previously filed federal or state information returns that may subject it to the assessment of income taxes, including the determination of its status as an organization exempt from income taxes under section 501(c)(3) of the IRC. If the Center were to become subject to federal and/or state income taxes, interest and penalties related to any uncertain tax positions taken would be recognized as an administrative expense. If the interest and penalties related to specific program or non-administrative function, they would be recognized as an expense of the respective function or program.
