FYE: November 30, 2013

Part IX-A:

- 1. The Diversity Working Group ("DWG")/The Chicago High School for the Arts: Beginning in 2004, the Co-trustees periodically convened a group of representatives from Chicago's foundation community. institutions, and performing arts organizations offering outreach to the area's underserved communities; the long range purpose of the DWG was to develop mechanisms to promote greater diversity at Chicago's performing arts organizations; in 2006 the DWG evolved into a larger project to create Chicago's first public high school for the arts, now known as The Chicago High School for the Arts ("ChiArts"), which is an Illinois not for profit corporation; in 2007 the Chicago Public School Board awarded a contract to ChiArts to operate a public high school for the arts, and in 2008 ChiArts received a determination from the Internal Revenue service that it is a public charity exempt from federal income tax. Enrolling approximately 150 students per year, ChiArts is now at full enrollment with 600 students. ChiArts has also graduated its first class of seniors, over 90% of whom gained admission to a college, university, or arts conservatory. ChiArts students come from every Ward in the city and reflect the racial and ethnic diversity of Chicago. The individual Co-trustee has committed time, energy, and talent to the project from its initiation to the present day, currently serving as a member of the corporation's Board of Directors and various board committees, including development. Not only has the individual Co-trustee played a key role in raising seed money for the project's initial operations but has also assisted in strategic fundraising for ChiArts, including developing a plan to raise over $17 million to help cover the cost of the arts-based portion of the curriculum for the school's first five classes, and in addressing a variety of legal and board development issues.
- 2. Science Education. The Trust has provided over its lifetime many grants to further science education. In 2006 it began conversations with Window to the World Communication, Inc. (WTTW) about how to educate the public, especially children, about science in general and science specifically occurring within the Chicago community. The conversations culminated in a grant in 2010 to provide funding for an inaugural monthly segment on WTTW's news program, Chicago Tonight, called Scientific Chicago. A portion of the grant funds an evaluation on whether the program is, in fact, increasing scientific knowledge and education within the Chicago community. The Co-trustees met with WTTW and the outside evaluator to learn how the segments are received by focus groups. The evaluation indicates people are fearful of science, but when shown in an accessible manner, are able to gain knowledge.

- 3. Music and Dance Theater Chicago, Inc.: Beginning on 1 July 2013, the individual Co-trustee began service as Chair of the Board of Trustees for the Joan B. and Irving J. Harris Theater for Music and Dance at Millennium Park, also known as Music and Dance Theater Chicago, Inc. ("The Harris Theater"), a 501(c)(3) public charity. The tripartite mission of The Harris Theater is to: provide a centrally-located, competitively-priced venue for Chicago's midsized and emerging non-profit performing arts companies; present world-class artists and performing arts companies; and provide community engagement programs that leverage the first two tenets of the mission, focusing on families and children, particularly from under-resourced and diverse communities. As Chair, the individual Co-trustee collaborates with management and leads the Board of Trustees in carrying out the foregoing mission. In particular, the Chair has supported the Co-chairs of a $38 million comprehensive fundraising campaign in conjunction with The Harris Theater's tenth anniversary season.
- 4. Chicago History Museum: On 1 January 2013 the individual Co-trustee was elected First Vice Chair of the Board of Trustees of the Chicago History Museum ("CHM"), also known as the Chicago Historical Society, the city's oldest non-profit cultural institution. Beginning in 2015, the individual Co-trustee shall begin a two year term as Chair of the Board of Trustees. In his current role as First Vice Chair, the individual Co-trustee supports the Chair in collaborating with management and leading the Board of Trustees in carrying out CHM's mission. Because CHM is currently contemplating a comprehensive fundraising campaign in 2015 through 2016, the individual Co-trustee is working with the Chair, the President of CHM, and fundraising counsel in laying the foundation for that campaign.
