Return Reference	Explanation
Part II, Line 5	Conservation easements require communications with landowners, monitoring visits at least once each year, reviewing landowner plans for changes that are addressed in the easement and approving or denying them, working with the organization's attorney to deal with violations and amendments, and in some cases transferring easements to other organizations. Some easements require very little time and others require lengthy discussions, negotiations, repeated visits, and specific management. Maintaining good communication with landowners is the key factor in avoiding violations and legal quagmires. As original Grantors pass on or transfer their property, it is especially important to quickly make contact and develop relationships with the new landowners and to help them understand the purpose and restrictions of the easement if necessary.
Part II, Line 9	Contributed conservation easements held by the Organization are not recorded in the financial statements because easements do not represent economic assets or resources. Purchased conservation easements are expensed on the date purchased.
Part III, Line 4	Photos received in settlement of donor's estate. Proceeds upon sale will be applied towards future land conservation.
Part V, Line 4	Operating endowment fund income is to be used for operating fund purposes (excluding land and conservation easement acquisitions) except as needed to be retained in the operating endowment fund so the purchasing power of the permanently restricted contributions is not eroded.
Part XI, Line 2d - Other Adjustments	Increase in beneficial interest in split-interest agreement 560,234. Loss on disposal of assets 182,190.
Part XI, Line 4b - Other Adjustments	Sale of Beef 78,179.

MCHT's Land Trust Program also extends re-grants to other organizations for various conservation and related projects. MCHT's Land Trust Program manager is responsible for reviewing and monitoring each of our re-grants. Final grant reports are required within generally 12 months from the date of the grant. These grant reports require the land trusts to provide the manner in which the funds were spent, a summary of the project, an evaluation of the outcomes, challenges and next steps. In addition, the land trusts are to include information on what the organization has learned through the project, particularly information that may be relevant to other conservation organizations.
