Part III Statement of Program Service AccomplishmentsCheck if Schedule O contains a response or note to any line in this Part III 1 Briefly describe the organization's mission:

To act as an outreach organization promoting Jewish learning that facilitates the study of the Jewish laws and holy books, in order to disseminate Jewish religious and cultural information through meetings, forums, seminars, books, tapes, and various audio/visual materials according to the Torah and Jewish law. Also, to help support related religious individuals and organizations and provide charity for individuals in need.

2 Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ?  Yes  No

If "Yes," describe these new services on Schedule O.

3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services?  Yes  No

If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O.

4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.4a (Code: _____) (Expenses $ 413,403 including grants of $ 314,045) (Revenue $ _____)

Charity is proved for individuals and families so they can focus on the Jewish Holy scriptures by studying, learning and praying.

The Jewish people's belief is that when one helps and supports another individual(s) study, learn and pray, it benefits the entire Jewish nation especially others who are not engaged in these religious activities, but who financially support them. In addition, conferences and learning sessions are organized on a weekly basis as well as sessions for major holidays. Some learning sessions may encompass a few days. Additional charity is also provided for those in need which is required by Jewish laws and scriptures.

Also complete this part to provide any additional information (see instructions).

Part I.) Rabbi Yosef Tedgo and members of the local foreign religious community oversees the distributions to individuals' charity support as well as the purchase of clothing and food for individuals in need. The Jewish people's belief is that when one helps and supports another individual(s) study, learn and pray, it benefits the entire Jewish nation especially others who are not engaged in these religious activities, but who financially support them. Rabbi Yosef Tedgo and the members of the local foreign religious community also oversee the process to make sure all recipients are truly in need and are meeting their required obligations of learning, studying, and praying. They also oversee the purchase of materials for religious events. Some of these recipients can, in the future, become learned members of their religious communities and go on to lead productive lives as rabbis and educators.

Part 1, Line 3, Column (f) The accounting method is cash and we have no investments in the Middle East & North Africa. The total expenses in the Middle East & North Africa is calculated by the total amount of charity given to individuals in this region.

Part III.) The accounting method used is cash and the number of recipients is calculated by the number of individuals that received checks for charity support.

Part IV Supplemental Information. Provide the information required in Part I, line 2, Part III, column (b), and any other additional information

Before any support is approved to any individual, it would have to be approved by a majority of the trustees, rabbi, board of directors, and members of the organization. The individuals that receive support are well known religious members of the community. We get to know them through their participation in prayer and our community. We also visit the individuals and their families at their homes to see how they are living, check if they have a valid need for our financial support, and determine their righteousness. The need for charity is determined by the Rabbi and other board members. Charity is given by buying the recipients essentials based on each individual's and family's needs. None of the charity recipients have been related to any individuals who make charity selections or to any of the officers or board members. Because we remain continuous contact with the recipients, we are confident that it is used for food, shelter and support for the individuals and their families. If we were to ever discovered any misuse of our funds, we would immediately terminate the relationship and take legal action if necessary.
