In 2013 the percent allocation for each of these strategic priorities was: Mission driven 5%, Financially responsible 15%, People centered 10%, Service oriented 10%, EPIC Watchlist 10%. Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c	All employees and Trustees are required to review and sign the Providence Health & Services Conflict of Interest Disclosure statement. This statement indicates that they have received a copy of Providence's policies on confidentiality and conflict of interest. This form is re-reviewed and re-signed each year and the forms are kept on file in the Foundation's offices. Questions about conflict of interest are first brought to the Corporate Member of the Board of Trustees. Further questions would be brought to the Hospice Operating Board of Directors for resolution.

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15	It is Providence's intention to make financial information accessible and transparent. Although the filing of Form 990 provides insight into how Providence achieves its Mission, delivers its programs and stewards its finances, deciphering the information directly from Form 990 can be challenging. The following paragraphs provide further information about the process we use to determine compensation for top management, officers and key employees. Providence Health & Services has a single fiduciary Board, with responsibility for financial oversight associated with fulfillment of the Providence Mission, developing system policies, protecting the assets entrusted to the organization and overseeing the strategic and operational affairs of Providence's legal entities. Providence also maintains a network of community ministry boards with responsibility for quality of care oversight, community relations, advocacy and community needs assessments. Providence Health & Services has a consistent compensation philosophy for all of its employees, including our senior executives. Salaries for senior executives are determined by the Providence Health & Services System Board's Human Resources Committee and approved by the full Board of Directors, none of whom is a Providence employee. The Providence Health & Services System Board retains an independent consultant each year to review salaries of those in the most significant leadership roles in the organization. Part of the consultant's role is to review an extensive array of compensation surveys of large, not-for-profit health care systems in the United States. Providence is one of the larger health systems in the country, and as such, the System Board benchmarks executive compensation against other large, not-for-profit health systems whose revenue is similar to that of Providence. Base salaries for Providence executives are set at the median level of the market, as identified by the independent consultant and reviewed with the Human Resources Committee. Performance incentives allow executives to earn additional compensation if they achieve specific organizational and individual goals for furthering Providence operating principles - advancing the Providence Mission and core values, meeting benchmarks for charity care, achieving quality targets, delivering top-rated customer satisfaction, meeting employee satisfaction goals and reaching financial performance objectives. The Board of Directors conducts a thorough process to ensure performance incentives are aligned with appropriate practices for not-for-profit health care systems. The Providence Health & Services System Board's process for executive compensation fully complies with IRS standards and mirrors the best practices recommended in the "Report to Congress and the Nonprofit Sector on Governance, Transparency, and Accountability" submitted to the Senate Finance Committee by the Panel on the Nonprofit Sector. Based upon the above principles, the Executive Director is reviewed annually by the PHS - So. California HR Department.
