Statement of Purpose Seay Foundation Scholarships

The Seay Foundation for Community Betterment seeks to recognize and reward, with scholarships, students ages 15-19 who demonstrate exemplary student citizenship in their school environment: in the classroom, on the school grounds, or in any role they have in conjunction with their school. These scholarships do not pertain to academic achievement, or athletic ability, or financial status. The scholarships' focus is on classroom and school-ground citizenship.

Our Perspectives On Classroom and School Ground Citizenship

The Seay Foundation's view of classroom and school ground citizenship holds that student citizenship expresses itself through student honesty, cooperation, sensitivity, and compassion.

The concept of honesty is self-explanatory: the student is truthful to others, and to themselves, in all their activities. The student does not lie, cheat, steal, or deceive.

Good classroom and school ground citizens are cooperative with the adults at the school, as well as with the others in the school community. They respect, and comply with, the rules, regulations, and procedures in effect at their school, whether it is in the classroom, or on the playing fields, or in the lunchroom, or the halls, and the like. Good classroom and school ground citizens are not disruptive of the school processes, or the school day---instead, they embrace the school processes and the daily rhythms and procedures of their school by cooperation with, and assimilation into, them.

Good classroom and school ground citizens are sensitive and compassionate towards others. Sensitivity is an awareness of, and understanding of, the feelings, needs, and emotions of others. Compassion is similar; it is a consciousness of another's plight, misfortune, distress, or suffering, coupled with a desire to alleviate it. Good classroom and school ground citizens never tease, taunt, haze, belittle, humiliate, make fun of, bully, or inflict any kind of emotional, or physical, pain on other. Good classroom and school ground citizens are understanding of mistakes, bad luck, lesser abilities, circumstances beyond another's control, and the like that can sometimes be awkward and painful in the school environment.

All experienced and professional classroom teachers know good classroom citizenship in their students, and they have their own perspectives on it. An applicant for our scholarships is required to submit the Statement on Citizenship from at least one current classroom teacher, one administrator (Department Head, Head of School, Director of Operations, etc.), and one additional Statement from any of the previous categories (classroom teacher or administrator) or from any other employee of the school (clerical staff, cafeteria personnel, groundskeeper, librarian, etc.), for a total of three.

These scholarships will pay all tuition not covered by other scholarship or financial aid for one year for secondary school awardees, and for two years of college to any school in America for graduating senior awardees. The scholarships are paid directly to the student's secondary school or university.

Application deadline: April 1, 2013

You have elected to apply for scholarship funds based solely on demonstrated classroom and school-ground citizenship as outlined in the Statement of Purpose. In 50-250 words, give us any perspectives or stories you have (positive or negative) about classroom and school ground citizenship as described in the Statement of Purpose. Or, alternatively, tell us anything about yourself and your daily life at school that would give us insights into what school life is like for you. Example: what is (are) the best thing(s) about your school?

Send this form to any of the addresses above (mail, fax, email) by April 1, 2013
