Reasonable Cause for Late Filing

Statement 3

Please abate any penalty associated with the late filing of the Form 990-PF. The organization was still in its formative stage until the most recent modifications and amendments were approved by the court. Circumstances had prevented the Trust from operating as the Foundation because as formed, the Trust was not organized to legally operate under IRS rules. We had to wait on the court to determine whether they would approve the Trust as amended before we could officially apply for tax-exempt private foundation status.

The delay in filing the late returns is due to the fact that the Trustee proceeded with caution and prudently waited for the court order amending the Trust prior to filing a Form 1023 application for exemption that would not have passed review scrutiny as the original creation of the Trust would not have qualified under IRS section 501(c)(3) rules. The amendment to the Trust needed to be approved in order for the organizing document to adhere to IRS exempt requirements. Gifts established by paid on death designation to the Foundation were executed, but no distributions were made as the will establishing the Foundation did not have enough information or guidance as written on how the Foundation should operate.

Eide Bailly, LLP has been engaged by the Trustee to prepare timely returns in the future on behalf of the Foundation. Now that the trust can operate, the Foundation will begin making distributions and recording the use of grants.
