The Flinn Foundation December 31, 2013 86-0421476

Direct Charitable Activities (Part IX-A)

1. Biomedical Research and Medical Education

The Foundation's historical focus on the bioscience expanded when its Board of Directors voted to focus its entire healthcare funding on this area over the next 10 years. In 2002, the Foundation issued its largest grant ever - $15 million – for the start-up costs of the Translational Genomics Research Institute, a collaborative research entity that partners with Arizona's public universities, research institutes, research hospitals, and others. In 2005, the Foundation issued an additional grant of $9 million in support of TGen's ongoing research efforts in the field of protein analysis. In 2007, the Foundation awarded an additional $10 million to TGen to support the Partnership for Personalized Medicine, a collaborative personalized-medicine research initiative involving TGen, the Biodesign Institute of Arizona State University, and the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center.

$973,324

2. Flinn Scholars

In partnership with Arizona's public universities the Foundation awards 20 full-cost scholarships to Arizona's top high school seniors for 8 semesters of study at one of three state universities. The Foundation supplements the direct cost of campus study through career counseling, cultural and group activities, and travel to Hungary and Romania to participate in a three-week seminar on NATO and the European Economic Union.

$528,195

3. Conference Program

The Flinn Foundation owns and operates a conference facility that it makes available at no cost to qualified nonprofit organizations, and to convene business, government, and charitable organizations sharing common charitable objectives with the Foundation.

4. Civic Leadership

The Flinn Foundation supports and administers the Arizona Center for Civic Leadership, a three-pronged program to strengthen civic leadership in Arizona. A primary component of the Center is the Flinn-Brown Civic Leadership Academy, which aims to develop future state-level leaders through nonpartisan, objective seminars on policy issues, mentorship and other programs. The Center also involves a leadership collaborative to help local and regional leadership programs to develop and work together on a state wide agenda to expand and enhance civic leadership at all levels. An ongoing communications campaign is also included to increases awareness of civic engagement, involvement, and leadership throughout the state. Additional major financial support for the Center is provided by the Thomas R. Brown Foundations
