Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

Race Forward's mission is to build awareness, solutions and leadership for racial justice by generating transformative ideas, information and experiences. We define racial justice as the systematic fair treatment of people of all races, resulting in equitable opportunities and outcomes for all and we work to advance racial justice through media, research and leadership development.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Program Service Accomplishments

The Media Program at Race Forward is at the forefront of bringing racial justice into the national conversation for media and politics. Our signature on-line publication, Colorlines.com, has been instrumental in serving as a vehicle making racial justice visible with concrete examples that can be supplied to the national media. In 2013, Colorlines had an average of 498,000 unique visitors a month and continued its growth.

Colorlines also played a prominent role in advancing news, and being a credible source on matters of racial justice. In 2013, Race Forward had an all-time high of 2000+ media mentions. Some of the most notable media mentions were:

Better Together and stories about issues affecting the LGBT community had 90 media mentions. The study was reprinted by higher education institutions including Rice University's Center for the Study of Women, Gender and Sexuality, Division of Equity & Inclusion at the University of California Berkeley, and used in the syllabus at the University of Michigan's School of Social Work. Form 990, Part III, Line 4c - Program Service Accomplishments

Race Forward's research explores the significance of race and ethnicity to our society's economic and social outcomes. Focusing largely on structural and institutional racism instead of personal prejudices, Race Forward's research seeks to reveal the hidden or ignored inequities of public policies and practices both within and across interconnected sectors such as education, immigration, criminal justice, employment and health.

In 2013, Research accomplished the following:

- Produced a Research Project Protocol template to proactively generate more community and impact-oriented research, and greater organizational clarity on strategy, audiences and desired impacts on the front-end of major projects in 2014 and beyond.
