Part III

Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Check if Schedule O contains a response or note to any line in this Part III

1

Briefly describe the organization's mission

SENS Research Foundation works to research, develop and promote comprehensive regenerative medicine solutions for the diseases and disabilities of aging. The research is governed by a strategic agenda to demonstrate the feasibility of rejuvenation biotechnologies, as a natural extension of regenerative medicine as applied to aging, and therefore drive broader involvement.

2

Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ?

Yes

No

If "Yes," describe these new services on Schedule O

3

Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services?

Yes

No

If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O

4

Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.

4a

(Code) (Expenses $ 1,007,770 including grants of $) (Revenue $)

Intramural Research - The intramural research program is carried out in the Organization's Mountain View facility by employees of the Organization. The program emphasizes the application of regenerative medicine to age-related disease, with the intent of repairing underlying damage to the body's tissues, cells, and molecules. The Organization's goal is to help build the industry that will cure the diseases and disabilities of aging.

4b

(Code) (Expenses $ 1,851,956 including grants of $ 1,710,926) (Revenue $)

Extramural research - the extramural research program funds some of the most prestigious institutions around the world. The goal of this program is identical to the intramural research program. Funding for extramural projects is prioritized in situations where relevant expertise is available to carry out aspects of research currently unaddressed in intramural efforts.

4c

(Code) (Expenses $ 124,667 including grants of $ 16,000) (Revenue $)

Academic Initiative - As part of its mission, the Organization is committed to educating students and the public about rejuvenation biotechnologies. The Organization's student program, SRF Education Academic Initiative, is committed to educating students and the public about rejuvenation biotechnologies. SRF Education operates a summer internship program that places students at the SRF Research Center and outside institutions, provides students with guidance, mentorship, and materials grants for SENS-related research projects, and is developing online coursework.

(Code) (Expenses $ 333,425 including grants of $) (Revenue $ 170,658)

Educational Conferences - In addition to participation in a variety of scientific and public engagements, the Organization organizes its own conferences and events. These include the SENS conferences held in Cambridge every other year (not held in 2012), and a variety of roundtable symposiums. This outreach is intended to inform both the scientific community and the general public about damage repair strategy for improving healthcare.

(Code) (Expenses $ 391,036 including grants of $) (Revenue $)

Other programs - The Organization conducts other programs related to the mission of the organization.

Facts And Circumstances Test
The SENS Research Foundation ("SRF") meets the facts and circumstances test of section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) and regulation 1.170A-9(f)(3). The Organization maintains a qualifying program for solicitation of funds and the Organization is of the nature of an organization which is publicly supported. The Organization normally receives a substantial part of its support from contributions made directly or indirectly by the general public. The percentage of support normally received by the Organization from contributions made directly or indirectly by the general public is at least 10 percent of the total support normally received by the Organization. In the 2013 tax year, 21% of SRF's support came from public funding. SRF's financial support consists of a combination of foundations, corporations, government bodies, and individual donors. In addition to continued financial support from existing donors, SRF plans to solicit contributions through phone, email, as well as donations made on the SRF website. SRF is optimistic that the number of supporters will grow further in the coming year. The Organization also maintains a continuous and bona-fide program for solicitation of funds from the general public or community. Since the Organization is in its early years of existence, it has limited the scope of its solicitation to persons or organizations deemed most likely to provide seed money in an amount sufficient to enable it to commence its charitable activities and expand its solicitation program. Additionally, the following facts and circumstances are pertinent to the Organization. The SENS Research Foundation ("SRF") works to develop, promote and ensure widespread access to regenerative medicine solutions to the disabilities and diseases of aging. It is achieving this goal through a combination of scientific research projects, educational programs, and outreach efforts. SRF's governing body is representative of the broad interests of the public. There are 7 directors on its board, including scientists, educators, and business people with experience and connections to universities, medical centers, and the scientific community. SRF's directors are internationally positioned to better support the global community's needs. SRF routinely publishes results of funded projects in peer-reviewed journals and presents those findings at internationally attended scientific conferences. SRF has a routinely updated listing of all its publications at http://sens.org/research/recent-publications that is made readily available to the general public. SRF puts on an academic conference bi-annually at Queens' College in Cambridge, UK. The SENS6 conference in 2013 had 70 academic presentations, including talks from all SRF-sponsored researchers. In addition, videos of all presentations have been made available at no cost on the SRF website and YouTube channel. Members of the scientific community, educators, and medical professionals participate in SRF projects. We have 15 extramural research projects that include Harvard University, Wake Forest Institute for Regenerative Medicine, Stanford University, Yale University, and Cambridge University, as well as 3 intramural research projects at the SRF Research Center in Mountain View, California. SRF also has a 24-member, world-class Research Advisory Board featuring leading scientists in the international community. SRF's educational program hosts research scholars and volunteers throughout the academic year at their Research Center, as well as their nationally and internationally affiliated organizations.

Return Reference	Explanation
Part X, Line 2	The Organization evaluates its uncertain tax positions and will recognize a loss contingency when it is probable that a liability has been incurred as of the date of the financial statements and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated. The amount recognized is subject to estimate and management judgment with respect to the likely outcome of each uncertain tax position. The amount that is ultimately sustained for an individual uncertain tax position or for all uncertain tax positions in the aggregate could differ from the amount recognized. As of December 31, 2013, management did not identify any uncertain tax positions.
