Schedule D, Part III, Line 4	The College owns a collection of rare historical books dating back to the Civil War period and a set of doors of African origin. As part of the College's Exempt purpose, these items are made accessible for study by the students, faculty and staff.
Schedule D, Part V, Line 4	The intended uses of the College's endowment funds are to provide merit and need-based institutional financial aid to students, support academic programs, used to support plant and other educational purposes in accordance with the donor's intentions for the use of the funds.
Schedule D, Part X, Line 2	The College generally does not provide for income taxes since it is a tax-exempt organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The College recognizes the benefit and establishes an accrual for an uncertain tax position only when the position is "more likely than not" to be sustained in the event of examination by tax authorities. In evaluating whether a tax position has met the recognition threshold, the College must presume that the position will be examined by the appropriate taxing authority that has full knowledge of all relevant information. ASC 740 also provides guidance on the recognition, measurement, and classification of income tax uncertainties, along with any related interest or penalties. Tax positions deemed to meet the "more-likely-than-not" threshold are recorded as a tax expense in the current year. The College has analyzed all open tax years, as defined by the statute of limitations, for all major jurisdictions. The open tax years include the years ended May 31, 2011 through May 31, 2013. The College has no examination in progress, and believes it has no significant uncertain tax positions.
