Part III, Line 1a If organization elected under SFAS 116 to not report are, historical treasures, o	The College does not record or capitalize its collections of works of art, historical treasures or similar assets. These collections are held for public exhibition, education and research in furtherance of the College's educational and public service mission. The collections are appropriately cared for and preserved and are subject to a College policy that requires the proceeds from sales, if any, of collection items to be used to acquire other items for the collection.
Part III, Line 4 Description of organization's collections and how it furthers its purpose	Cornell Fine Arts Museum collection. The Cornell Fine Arts Museum (CFAM) has more than 5,000 objects from antiquity to the contemporary. Major collection works include Renaissance and Old Masters with additional strengths in landscape and portraiture and a collection of work from the Bloomsbury Circle. CFAM mission and how accomplished. CFAM educates, enriches and engages students and the public through exhibitions and an array of programs. Curatorial and educational staff members illustrate links between works of art and a variety of curricula. CFAM enhances traditional classroom learning across all disciplines with docent-led tours, teacher workshops, films, public programs including lectures by Distinguished Visiting Scholars and Artists, and other activities such as CFAMilies, an art project for children of all ages and adults to enjoy together. The museum offers free admission to all visitors.
Part V, Line 4 Intended uses of the endowment fund	Endowment distribution supports expenditures such as Scholarships, Professor Salaries & Faculty Development, Library Resources, the Athletic Program, the Cornell Fine Arts Museum, Academic Program Support and Plant Maintenance.
Part X FIN48 Footnote	The College's policy is to record a liability for any tax position taken that is beneficial to the College, including any related interest and penalties, when it is more likely than not the position taken by management with respect to a transaction or class of transactions will be overturned by a taxing authority upon examination. Management believes there are no such positions as of May 31, 2014 and, accordingly, no liability has been accrued.
