Schedule D, Part III, Line 1	The College holds certain collections of works of art and furnishings. These collections are housed in a protected environment and are used for exhibitions for the public, for education and research, as well as for the furtherance of service to the public. These collections are not disposed of for financial gains nor are they encumbered in any way. Accordingly, these collections are not capitalized or recorded for purposes of these financial statements.
Schedule D, Part III, Line 4	The College holds certain collections of works of art and furnishings. These collections are housed in a protected environment and are used for exhibitions for the public, for education and research, as well as for the furtherance of service to the public.
Schedule D, Part V, Line 4	The College's endowment consists of board-designated and funds contributed to the College, the income from which is to be used for scholarships, capital improvements, faculty expenses, and library acquisitions.
Schedule D, Part X, Line 2	The College is a not-for-profit organization that is generally exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Accordingly, no provisions for income taxes related to tax exempt activities is recorded in the financial statements. The College recognizes the financial statement benefit of a tax position only after determining that the relevant tax authority would more likely than not sustain the position following an audit. For tax positions meeting the more-likely-than-not threshold, the amount recognized in the financial statements is the largest benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement with the relevant tax authority.

Return Reference	Explanation
Schedule J, Part I, Line 1a	The President of the college receives a housing allowance which is reported as taxable compensation in accordance with applicable tax law. The President is reimbursed for reasonable travel expenses, as determined by the college in its sole discretion, incurred by his spouse to the extent that she accompanies him in the performance of his duties. Such reimbursements will be added to the President's taxable income, when appropriate, in accordance with applicable tax laws. Two employees have a membership to a local country club paid for by the College, the President and the Vice President - College Advancement. The business purpose is for the entertainment of potential donors to the College or other important guests. The fair value of any personal usage is added to the employee's taxable compensation in accordance with applicable tax law.
Schedule J, Part I, Line 4	The President's contract contains a provision for certain termination benefits. These provisions include continuation of current salary at the rate in effect as of the date of termination for the lesser of 12 months following the termination date or the expiration of his current contract on June 30, 2016. The contract also calls for the reimbursement of any COBRA benefits in the same relative proportion by the College and the President as in effect on the termination date. These reimbursements would cease on the earlier of the end of the maximum period for COBRA continuation or the President becoming eligible to participate in another group health plan.

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 16b	The College is a partner in a real estate development not far from the College. The College owned unusable land, sold the land, and took interest in a partnership that will develop housing and rental units. The College receives a Federal Form K-1 each period reporting rental income that passes through to the College. The College's involvement is purely passive in nature and no unrelated business income is expected from the partnership. This passive activity is insignificant to the overall operations of the college, provides a small passive revenue stream to the College, helped relieve the College of unusable land and provides the Manchester community an opportunity to build housing near the College. The Board of Trustees and management approved all of the transactions leading up to the College's involvement in the partnership, all negotiations conducted at arms-length and fair value.
