Statement 1 – Form 990, Part III, line 1 – Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Orphan's Tree's mission is to bring the benefits of family and God's hope to Russian orphans when they are most alone.

Orphan's Tree is committed to supporting programs that will have the greatest influence in the lives of older orphans and at-risk kids in today's Russia. There are numerous current challenges that we target as we participate in providing solutions for the benefit of at-risk kids with two NGOs (non-governmental organizations) – Nadezhda Fund and Together Fund.

Orphan's Tree is a U.S. partner of the Nadezhda Fund, a Russian based NGO doing charitable work with orphans in Russia. Orphan's Tree works with the Nadezhda Fund in Moscow, Vladimir, Ivanovo and Kostroma regions.

Orphan's Tree also supports a second NGO in Russia, Together Fund. The Together Fund is doing work with young adult orphans in Kostroma, St Petersburg and Vladimir regions. The Together Fund is partially funded by Orphan's Tree. The Together Fund operates under a shared board with Orphan's Tree and is consolidated in the financial statements. All material transactions and balances between the entities have been eliminated in the consolidation. These entities will be collectively referred to as Orphan's Tree.

There are three ways in which we provide program services to orphans in Russia:

1. We provide salary support for Nadezhda Fund and Together Fund employees, and we provide funds for supplies and travel expenses for various programs and activities.
2. We send U.S. volunteers to Russia to work with older orphans on the various Organization's programs, and
3. We develop and obtain grants from Russian corporations to support the Organization's programs facilitated by Nadezhda Fund and Together Fund.

Statement 2 – Form 990, Part III, line 4a – Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Description

Ministry Programs: Expenses of $332,966, including grants of $54,120

We provide funds to support front-line staff salaries, program activities, supplies, and travel expenses for the various Organization programs described below. Included in these program costs are an allocated part of the Organization's staff compensation and operating expenses to achieve program objectives.

Leadership: Expenses of $11,047, including grants of $4,199

Federal Statements

Statement 2 – Form 990, Part III, line 4a – Statement of Program Service Accomplishments (continued)

One of our objectives is to groom leadership and volunteering traits in young adult orphans. This development is done throughout most of our programs and specifically includes young adult orphans revisiting their home orphanages to discuss their experiences after graduating from the orphanage and giving encouragement to other orphans. Other activities include volunteering at a local church, nursing homes and hosting Christmas parties for needy families.

Education: Expenses of $76,803, including grants of $8,494

Education takes place everywhere. As such, it overlaps with almost all programs. We desire to see orphans have doors opened for them through expanded educational opportunities. Typical examples of activities include appreciation seminars in art, music, and dance. We also fund eleven older orphans studying in Moscow and St Petersburg. We provide support for living expenses and, in some cases, tuition.

Job Preparation: Expenses of $17,072, including grants of $3,742

Orphans are becoming better educated, emotionally adjusted, and healthier citizens through our programs. However, a need exists for assistance in job preparation and their first career steps. The objective is to not simply be placed in a job, but to find fulfillment and satisfaction from their work. Studies have shown, however, that only a third of orphanage graduates find employment and then twenty percent of them lose it within the first year.

Life Skills: Expenses of $57,020, including grants of $17,996

Raised in an orphanage, orphans typically struggle with what many in society grow up understanding – basic life skills. As teens prepare to leave their orphanage, we desire to assist them in their transition to independent living in the outside world.

The ministry centers are drop-in centers where older orphans come for support, counseling, computer instruction, work out in the gym and receive counsel from our staff about their life and problems. We provide funds to support the activities held at the ministry centers that include training in basic life skills such as budgeting, interacting with teachers and others in authority, choosing good friends, being a good friend, elements of a healthy life style, and similar topics are offered. Training is provided in seminar and small group settings. U.S. teams that are sponsored by the Organization provide some of the training. Funding covers staff salaries, materials and day trips for the older orphans.

Young Families: Expenses of $40,402, including grants of $18,970

In this fiscal year, we served 25 young families in the Vladimir, Kostroma and Ivanovo regions. Professional counseling and individual support and encouragement are key components of the Young Families program. We host a Mother's Day Out program which allows young mothers with respite care. There is also an emergency fund for unexpected illnesses or from a job loss.

Residential Care (Family Centers): Expenses of $10,191, including grants of $719

In this program, groups of both young men and women experience and learn from life in a family setting with a Russian couple in a group home. We provide partial support for three Lakinsk family centers. The remaining Lakinsk support comes from a grant, which we obtained from a Russian corporation (see Schedule O)

Dacha Project: Expenses of $79,980, including grants of $0

Going to a dacha in the summer is a strong part of the Russian culture. Dachas have vegetable gardens to raise food both for current use and for the coming winter months. Most important is the mentorship that transpires as staff members and young adult orphans work and recreate together. Orphan's Tree operates two dachas, one in the Vladimir region and the other in the Kostroma region. This past year we added a new structure in the Vladimir dacha and are continuing to finish it out in the coming year. This will enable us to triple the number of possible participants in the program.

Orphans learn practical skills such how to renovate a building, maintain a garden, and cook meals together. They also enjoy recreational activities such as cross country skiing and fishing at a nearby river.

Faith, Hope, Love: Expenses of $34,748, including grants of $0

The Faith, Hope, Love Program supports vulnerable young women in crisis situations. These young women are living in desperate poverty and are the most likely to be forced to place their children in an orphanage. This is a program effectively preventing destitute mothers from institutionalizing their children in an orphanage.

Flat renovation and other projects: Expenses of $5,703, including grants of $0

This program was designed to fill one of the most basic of needs for older orphans – housing
