PROTECT Working with landowners who want to conserve the land they love, we've protected over 31,000 acres in more than 50 places along the Blue Ridge Parkway. We've preserved pristine mountain streams, historic trails, healthy forests, and spectacular Parkway views. We've helped conserve the drinking water supply watersheds for Asheville (17,000 acres) and Waynesville (8,000 acres). We've conveyed to the National Park Service (or other public agencies) 26 properties (over 3,000 acres) that can now be enjoyed by the public forever.

ASSIST We promote, support and represent 23 local land trusts so that they can conserve more land in the communities they serve. We advocate at the state legislature and in Congress for funding, tax incentives, and policies that boost conservation. We've cumulatively distributed over $14 million in grants from foundations, government agencies, and CTNC's own funds to land trusts to support their work. We promote land trusts' conservation successes in traditional media outlets and through social media. We convene North Carolina's land trust community and provide leadership on emerging issues. North Carolina's land trusts comprise a sophisticated network of creative, accomplished organizations that work tirelessly to preserve lands in their communities. Collectively, our state's land trusts (including CTNC) have conserved over 400,000 acres in nearly 2,500 locations, in all 100 counties. These special places will provide safe drinking water, clean air, local foods, and opportunities for recreation and renewal for generations to come.

Our NC Youth Conservation Corps provides paid summer jobs to 16-24 year olds to enhance preserved natural areas for public use. Our Conservation and Diversity Program brings conservation to urban areas and low-income communities through paid summer internships for diverse college students, community gardens, pocket parks, and outreach to low-resource farmers to help them save their land.

Schedule D, Part II, Line 3	The Organization amended one easement during the year. This amendment clearly defines the easement area, and delineates the easement on a map which resulted in an overall increase in the acreage under easement. The easement was updated to improve clarity and strengthen protections for water quality, forest health, and scenic views. In addition, the baseline documentation report was updated and a Forest Stewardship Plan has been written.
Schedule D, Part II, Line 5	The organization has written land protection policies that are approved by the Board of Directors. These policies address easement monitoring and inspection, violations and enforcement. The policies are periodically reviewed and updated by the Board Land Protection Committee. These policies were developed and written so that they comply with the Land Trust Alliance's Standards and Practices. The organization has received accreditation from the Land Trust Alliance Accreditation Commission.
Schedule D, Part II, Line 9	The Organization records land at cost if purchased, or at fair market value at date of acquisition if all or part of the land was received as a donation. These lands are managed in an effort to protect their conservation value until they can be transferred to other organizations or governmental units who will manage the land in a similar fashion in perpetuity. Conservation Easements are comprised of listed rights and/or restrictions over the owned property that are conveyed by a property owner to the Organization in an effort to protect the property as a significant natural area.
