Breakthrough Collaborative, founded in San Francisco in 1978 as "Summerbridge," and renamed in 1991 to reflect our growing national profile, is the largest pre-service teacher-training program in the United States. For more than 35 years, Breakthrough has been improving educational outcomes for under-served middle- and high-school students, increasing the quality, quantity and diversity of young people entering the field of education, and advancing their collective opportunities to succeed through a broad network of educational partners and alumni. Breakthrough has 33 affiliate sites in 24 cities. Every year, Breakthrough prepares 5,000 middle- and high-school students to enter and succeed in college, recruits and trains over 750 high school and college students as their teachers, and supports over 100 exceptional educators to serve as mentors to our aspiring teachers. Since 1978, we have served over 40,000 middle, high school, and college students across the US. Through a model that explicitly engages and fosters connections amongst students of multiple ages and grades, Breakthrough serves under-served students who are often attending failing schools. 92% are of color, 71% are low-income, 44% speak English as their second language, 62% will be the first in their families to graduate from four-year colleges.
