Part III Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Check if Schedule O contains a response or note to any line in this Part III [X]

1 Briefly describe the organization's mission

Art in Action ignites students' thinking and creativity by providing engaging visual arts programs through which they learn art history, appreciation, and skills. Our program combines a sequential K-8 art curriculum based on historically significant works of art with lesson-specific art supplies, hands-on and online training of teachers and parent volunteers, and support for schools that participate in the program. Since its inception over 32 years ago, Art in Action has delivered a powerful visual arts education to over 350,000 students and has trained over 12,000 teachers and parent volunteers to teach our dynamic curricula. As part of our mission to bring arts education to as many students as possible, Art in Action helps subsidize the program through fundraising and partnerships to keep fees affordable, especially in low-income areas and those that have little access to art education. We believe that art should be an integral part of every student's education, and that through art

The Art in Action Program is a discipline-based, Common Core aligned, visual arts curriculum where K-8 students learn creativity, problem solving and critical thinking skills, and cultural awareness. Our nine sequential program levels, based on historically significant works of art, teach art appreciation, art history, and art techniques through easy-to-present yet highly enriching content. This fiscal year we added 59 new schools for a total of 182, representing over 1,600 classrooms and 45,000 students. Schools in 20 states and three countries are participating in the Art in Action program. Over 4,300 teachers and parent volunteers were trained to teach the program. More than 1,600 boxes of pre-packaged art materials were shipped to teachers, who successfully delivered the program to their students. 2,750 volunteer hours were logged to help pack our art materials, plan our annual fundraising event, provide office support, and guide the organization as board members. A number of companies and private foundations helped us expand our reach and fund the program in low-income schools through cash and in-kind support. These included Adobe, Ammunition, Genentech, Google, Hewlett-Packard, Intel, the Kimball Foundation, Safeway, Salesforce.com Foundation, the Shortino Foundation, and Shutterfly.
