|    | Patient Care GLHF advances the comprehensive care for people with bleeding disorders through its support of an integrated regional network of hemophilia treatment centers through a grant from HRSA The design of the hemophilia treatment care network provides patients with access to multiple disciplines, each of which has specific expertise in bleeding disorder care The hemophilia model has been one of the most successfully managed public health programs in the United States The substantial socioeconomic benefits of comprehensive services for the hemophilia population are well documented and include increased employment, fewer days lost from work and school, decreased hospital in-patient-days, increased numbers of patients with third-party coverage, lower cost of care, and decreased health care resource utilization More importantly, studies indicate that persons receiving care through the hemophilia treatment center network have a 40% reduction in risk of death despite having more severe clinical symptoms compared to those receiving non-treatment-center care |

| Part I, Line 2   | GLHF supports individuals with bleeding disorders by providing financial assistance to offset medical bills, insurance costs and travel to medical appointments and clinics. Individuals are categorized by federal poverty level based on income statements. Grant amounts are adjusted based on the poverty level of the individual. Invoices are required for payment. Most payments are made directly to the healthcare provider or insurance company on behalf of the individual. Travel expenses are supported through small gas cards and taxi vouchers and distributed by the treatment centers when individuals have appointments. Educational scholarships and camp scholarships require application by individuals. Educational scholarship recipients must send verification of acceptance by the educational institution. Scholarship awards are sent directly to the institution. Recipients are required to submit semester-end grades to complete the process and be considered for future assistance. Camp scholarship requests are submitted prior to camp. GLHF works with the various bleeding disorders camps to verify participation in camp. Camps submit invoices directly to GLHF. GLHF makes payments directly to the camp on behalf of the individuals. Financial support is provided to individuals to assist with basic living needs in extraordinary circumstances. GLHF requires household income statements and verification of outstanding bills to consider assistance appropriateness and assistance level. In most instances payments are made directly to a service provider or support is provided through gift cards to grocery stores. The federal grants are administered to the specifications and requirements of HRSA and the CDC. Staff has frequent contact with grantees and reports are required. Payments are made when invoices are submitted by the grantees. A full accounting of the grant is submitted with the required level of detail to the governmental agencies at the end of the year. |

| Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c | The organization implements an annual certification. Compliance is self-monitored and board members have consistently held themselves, and each other, to high standards of abstaining during discussion and voting on issues with which they either have, or may be perceived to have, a conflict.                                                                       |
| Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15a | Yes. Salary range information for executive directors by organization size and area of focus was obtained from the Nonprofit Center of Milwaukee. The salary range information was reviewed with the Executive Committee and after discussion and deliberation, an appropriate salary range was defined. The salary of the Executive Director meets the range as defined. |
| Form 990, Part VI, Section C, line 19  | Governing documents, conflict of interest policy and financial statements are available to the public upon request.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
