(405) 360-2282

b The form in which applications should be submitted and information and materials they should include

The scholarship application is completed online at www.verplankfoundation.com. As part of the process, applicants are required to submit an education endorsement from a High School counselor, administrator or teacher. They are required to define the sport in which they participate and provide an endorsement from a coach. Finally, they are required to provide an endorsement from the physician that treats their diabetes.

c Any submission deadlines

None

d Any restrictions or limitations on awards, such as by geographical areas, charitable fields, kinds of institutions, or other factors

Scholarships are limited to students who were diagnosed with Type I diabetes as youths. The applicant must be attending, or planning to attend, a college or university. The applicant must have participated in a sport during high school. Being in good physical condition is a key component to living with diabetes. By participating in sports, the applicant demonstrates a willingness to take a holistic approach to living with and minimizing the effects of diabetes. All scholarship awards are paid directly to the university, for the benefit of the applicant, to which the successful applicant will attend. No cash payments are made directly to the individual applicants.
