Facts And Circumstances Test

Return Reference	Explanation
Schedule A, Part II, Line 17a Ten Percent Facts and Circumstances Test 2014 Explanation	Conner Prairie Museum ("CPM") was formed as an Indiana nonprofit corporation on September 1, 2005 CPM, an affiliate of the Smithsonian Museum, was organized to own, operate, and manage the Conner Prairie Museum, which provides educational programs in Fishers, Indiana In 2005, CPM submitted Form 1023, Application for Recognition of Exemption ("CPM's 1023"), and based on CPM's 1023, the Internal Revenue Service ("Service") issued a determination letter recognizing CPM as an organization described in Code Section 501(c)(3) and as a public charity by virtue of Code Sections 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) ("CPM's Determination Letter") CPM has been organized and operating since 2005 CPM's organizational purposes and operations have not changed in any material respect since CPM's 1023 was submitted and it received its determination letter As detailed more fully below, during this time, CPM has provided countless educational activities and opportunities to the residents of Central Indiana and beyond, providing hands on experiences for both children and adults alike To ensure these opportunities are able to continue in perpetuity, CPM has been dedicated to obtaining public support for these operations Despite these efforts, CPM's public support over the past five years did not exceed one-third (1/3) of its financial support However, the facts and circumstances clearly illustrate that CPM should continue to be classified as a publicly supported organization Treas Reg Sec 1 170A-9T(f)(3) provides that "even if an organization fails to meet the 33% public support test, it is publicly supported if it normally receives a substantial part of its support from governmental units, from contributions made directly or indirectly by the general public, or from a combination of these sources, and meets the other requirements of this paragraph (f)(3) " There are several factors that are evaluated to determine whether an entity satisfies the 10% facts and circumstances test The services and educational opportunities that CPM provides to all who visit Conner Prairie Museum are truly remarkable As a result, CPM enjoys broad public support from those who utilize the educational opportunities that are provided by CPM as well from donors that include individuals, corporations, foundations, municipalities, and government entities The following details clearly illustrate that CPM qualifies as a publicly supported organization under Treas Reg Sec 1 170A-9T(f)(3) During the initial five year period after receiving the CPM Determination Letter, CPM satisfied and continues to satisfy the required 10% public support test CPM enjoys wide and significant support from individuals, corporations, foundations, municipalities, and government entities CPM has in excess of 6,000 charitable contributors, varying in size, amount, and type of contribution This public support is further enhanced by the revenue generated from the admission to the museum, including from students and school corporations that visit CPM during the school year Moreover, CPM maintains an active and dedicated program to seek out all types and levels of public funding CPM's fundraising entails a comprehensive development program that includes annual gifts, corporate sponsorships, major gifts, in-kind gifts, foundation grants, and estate gifts A development team, consisting of an Annual Fund manager, Corporate Development Director, Grant Writer, Vice President of Advancement, and President and CEO, are responsible for soliciting funding through a variety of approaches, including written corporate and grant proposals, phone solicitations, in person solicitations, letters, and special events The development operations also include a full-time prospect researcher as well as a database manager This comprehensive fundraising program illustrates that CPM is organized and operated in a manner to attract new and additional public support on a continuous basis, providing additional support of its status as a publicly supported charity Another important factor for satisfying the public support test is the type of public support received by the organization Treas Reg Sec 1 170A-9T(f)(3)(iii)(B) provides that support "from governmental units or directly or indirectly from a representative number of persons will be taken into consideration" in determining whether an organization satisfies the public support test CPM clearly exemplifies an organization that satisfies this standard CPM is internationally renowned for its Interactive History Park, where individuals are able to engage, explore, and discover what it was like to live and play in Indiana's past Accordingly, CPM enjoys broad public support Governmental entities support CPM all throughout the school year as school corporations send their students to utilize and experience the educational opportunities offered by CPM Over 500 schools visit CPM to utilize and allow students to engage in the Interactive History Park Additionally, CPM is also supported by over 360,000 individuals that visit the museum every year, further illustrating the public impact of CPM Of the 360,000 plus individuals that visit CPM annually, approximately 60,000 are visiting as part of a school-sponsored program (students) Furthermore, CPM's commitment to being open and available to the entire public is illustrated by the fact that an entire family can obtain an annual membership pass to CPM for under $100 Finally, the influence of CPM is also shown by the summer camp that it hosts on an annual basis where approximately 2,000 children participate each summer The public support of CPM is also illustrated through the representative governing body of CPM According to Treas Reg sec 1 170A-9T(f)(3)(iii)(C), an organization will be viewed as being publicly supported if the "governing body represents the broad interests of the public, rather than the personal or private interests of a limited number of donors" and where the directors "are persons having special knowledge or expertise in the particular field or discipline in which the organization is operating " To ensure CPM obtains a broad cross-section of the public, the CPM Board of Directors is authorized to have up to fifty (50) directors, currently CPM has thirty-two (32) directors, and their biographies detailing the significant experience they each bring to the Board of Director's can be found at http //www connerprairie org/About-Conner-Prairie/Board-of-Directors Moreover, to ensure that CPM has the requisite experience and knowledge to be a publicly supported organization, the requirements to be a director include, in part, that the director has "demonstrated philanthropic or non-profit interests or involvement with a substantial non-profit organization" as well as has "demonstrated ability to raise and/or make substantial gifts for the benefit of a non-profit organization " Finally, to help ensure the quality and experience CPM provides is at the highest level, each director must have "experience with a history museum and/or interest in early American history " For all these reasons, CPM's Board of Directors illustrates that CPM is a publicly supported organization Finally, CPM's public support is illustrated by the educational activities it provides that directly benefit the public Treas Reg Sec 1 170A-9T(f)(3)(iii)(d)(1) contemplates that an organization that provides facilities or services directly for the benefit of the general public illustrates that it is a publicly supported organization, and specifically identifies a museum as an organization that satisfies this criteria CPM is just that a museum that provides both facilities and services directly for the benefit of the public This is evidenced by the fact that CPM is an affiliate of the Smithsonian Museum Not only does CPM carry out an important activity of educating individuals on the history of Indiana, but it does so in a unique and interactive manner, attracting all populations, which furthers both CPM's mission and benefit to the public The foregoing illustrates that CPM is clearly an educational organization that is publicly supported, as defined in Treas Reg Sec 1 170A-9T(f)(3)
