Facts and Circumstances Statement for IRS Form 990

Shadybrook, Inc. ("Shadybrook") is organized and operates in a manner designed to attract new and additional public or governmental support on a continuous basis. Shadybrook's membership drive begins each November for the following year. Letters soliciting new memberships and membership renewals are mailed out to the organization's full mailing list, which includes current members, people interested in the organization who are not members, and a number of local organizations. Announcements of open enrollment are made in Shadybrook's e-newsletters and an ongoing invitation is published on the Website. Brochures inviting people to become members of the organization are available at Shadybrook programs and events, most of which are widely advertised and open to the public.

In order to promote broad community participation and membership, anyone is welcome to become a member of Shadybrook. Although a scale of membership fees is set, a donation of any amount submitted with a membership form is acceptable. The organization believes that a lack of money should not keep interested participants from taking part in Shadybrook activities. The purpose of membership fees is to raise money to continue offering affordable programs for members and the public.

A substantial portion of Shadybrook's operations is funded by a well-managed endowment, which was contributed by a Shadybrook founding member decades ago to help fulfill the organization's vision of providing spiritual and educational programs that would benefit the general public. Endowment funds are supplemented by: (1) Shadybrook's continuous and bona fide program for soliciting funds from the general public; (2) through activities and programs designed to attract support from the community; (3) by income from membership donations; and (4) from goodwill donations collected at programs. Shadybrook's governing body is its Board of Directors, consisting of individuals nominated by the Membership to oversee the operations of the organization, including deciding how best to serve the public. Throughout the year, the organization continually hosts programs, workshops, seminars, and retreats designed to appeal to persons having a broad common interest in personal growth and spiritual exploration and promote the personal exploration of such activities. Most income for Shadybrook programs is received on a donation basis. In some cases, income is received as a set fee for programs and events rather than the usual donation basis, but the normal practice for Shadybrook is to receive income through donations.

Shadybrook's events are widely advertised and open to the public through web, email and other advertising media. The only exceptions would be one or two social events each year that are held for the members (although members are always encouraged to bring guests from the general public).
