Return Reference	Explanation
Part I, Line 2	The purpose of the SoWH Research Grant Awards program is to encourage the scientific study of issues in women's health and physical therapy and to support the dissemination of research findings. Applicants are required to submit an application that includes a budget, budget justification, facilities, resources, other support, bio sketches, subject procedures, citation list, data and safety monitoring plan. In addition, applicants must submit a research plan that contains a description of the proposed study including details of the purpose, specific aims, hypothesis (to be tested or generated), sampling design, methods, analytical approach, expected results and discussion. The research plan should also highlight the novelty of the study, the importance to women's health and physical therapy, background, significance including conceptual framework and preliminary data. Grant recipients must submit a progress report to the SoWH Director of Research and Executive Director within 90 days following completion of the project. The progress report will include a description of the results, plans for the next phase of research, an update on manuscripts, grant proposals and abstracts presented related to the project. Recipients are required to submit a research article from the funded project to the Journal of the Section on Women's Health upon completion with appropriate acknowledgement of the source(s) of project funding. A manuscript may be submitted to another journal only in the event that the research article is not found suitable for publication in the Journal of the Section on Women's Health and/or after it has been published in the Journal of the Section on Women's Health.
